Ludy To Get Murphy Job With Span

Outgoing County Supervisor George H. Ludy was appointed late yesterday to the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board, to succeed his fellow Inverness resident, Leland S. Murphy.

The appointment is for a four-year term. Murphy's term expires the end of this year. He has been on the bridge board for 21 years.

Fellow supervisors William A. Gnoss, Peter H. Behr and Byron W. Leydecker voted to appoint Ludy to the post, one of two on the 14-member bridge board filled by Marin County. Ludy himself dissented. Supervisor William D. Fusselman was absent.

Ludy's appointment came after he had moved to reappoint Murphy and found the board deadlocked 2-to-2. Chairman Gnoss joined Ludy in voting to reappoint Murphy; Behr and Leydecker opposed.

Behr then moved to appoint Ludy. He said the board respected the service given by Murphy and that he was entitled to thanks, but he felt there should be some "new blood" on the bridge board.

Leydecker said Murphy has served well but the board should not get "trapped into automatically reappointing" when "there seem to be others who could contribute."

The supervisors agreed that Ludy's knowledge of Marin, his experience in local government and his relationship with officials in other counties in the bridge district would be an asset.

"I think Ludy could serve the county well," Behr said.

Murphy's reappointment four years ago came by 3-to-2 vote of the county supervisors, with Gnoss joining the late Walter R. Castro in opposing. Fusselman and Supervisors Vera L. Schultz, then representing the Third District, and James A. Marshall, who then represented the Fourth District, voted for Murphy's appointment.

U.C. Ignores Rebel Threat

BERKELEY (UPI) — University of California officials ignored an ultimatum by rebellious students today, touching off a new demonstration by the so-called "free speech movement."

Several hundred students gathered in front of Sproul Hall, the university administration building, for a rally.

Mario Savio, a leader of the student group, repeated an earlier threat to "march into Sproul Hall and stay there until they take us to jail."

Brazil Nips Peron Bid To Return

RIO DE JANIERO (UPI)—Brazilian officials today seized former Argentine dictator Juan D. Peron on his arrival here, upsetting his plan to return to Agentina after nine years in exile.

The Brazilians ordered the one-time strong man to return to Madrid where he had been living for the past five years. They also grounded the Iberia jetliner in which he booked passage en route to Uruguay, from where he hoped to enter Argentina.

Officials said Peron would be returned to Spain aboard the first flight.

(In Madrid, official sources said Spain has no legal right to refuse re-entry to Peron. But Foreign Office officials said his return was "not greatly desired.")

It was reported Peron had asked for an audience with President Humberto Castello Branco, presumably to ask for political asylum.

Official sources indicated Castello Branco personally made the decision to bar Peron after early morning conferences with

Powerful Bay Filling Control Unit Is Urged

Group Would Issue Or Deny Project Permits

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A study commission yesterday recommended that the state legislature create a powerful San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission that would issue or deny permits for projects involving dredging or filling of the bay.

The study group's recommendation came after several hearings. It concluded that further piecemeal and uncoordinated filling of the bay could lead to restrictions on navigation, destruction of wildlife feeding grounds, and harmful effects on both water and air quality.

SEVERAL AGENCIES

The 29-member commission would include representatives from several agencies and the nine counties of the Bay Area.

Two geologists testified yesterday that construction of tall buildings on filled land would be ill-advised. They said the buildings would be vulnerable to earthquake damage.

After hearing this testimony, the study group, headed by State Sen. J. Eugene McAteer (D-San Francisco), voted to recommend a geologist be one member of the proposed commission.

BIRD POPULATION

The group was also told yesterday that the migratory bird population of the entire Pacific could be decimated if feeding grounds of the bay should be filled in with developments.

Walter T. Shannon, director of the State Department of Fish and Game, said that up to 50 per cent of the ducks wintering in California depend on the marshlands and shallows of the bay.

The study group recommended that the proposed commission make a detailed examination of the quality, quantity and movement of bay waters, analyze the present and proposed uses of the bay and its shorelines and prepare a comprehensive plan for conservation and use.

Proposed membership on the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission would include representatives of the Army Corps of Engineers, Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency, State Lands Commission, Bay Regional Water Pollution Control Board and Bay Area Transportation Study Commission.

Also recommended are the state highway transportation administrator, the state planning officer, the State Resources Agency administrator, and a representative from each of the nine counties, to be appointed by county supervisors.

Mariner Shot Heads For Mars

At 4 a.m. today the Mars probe was 714,206 miles from earth and traveling 7,143 miles an hour in relation to earth.

Board Adopts Leydecker's Proposal For Redistricting

More Of San Rafael Goes To District 4

Marin County supervisors yesterday adopted a supervisorial redistricting plan that places Corte Madera, most of Larkspur and downtown San Rafael into District 4, the West Marin District.

Mayors of the three cities and the supervisor-elect of District 4 protested the plan that will split cities and extend District 4 from the Point Reyes Peninsula to San Rafael Bay.

After an hour and 10 minute hearing, Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, who devised the plan, moved that it be adopted.

MAP SHOWN

The map showing the new district boundaries, including the street lines, was shown to the board for the first time yesterday by John F. Barrows, assistant county administrator.

There were several changes from Leydecker's original plan to bring the boundaries in line with voting precincts, Barrows said.

The vote was 4-0, Supervisor William D. Fusselman absent.

PLAN CRITICIZED

As the plan was criticized at the hearing, supervisors noted they are under order from the State Supreme Court to redistrict by Jan. 15 to bring about more equal population in the five districts.

Thomas T. Storer of Inverness Park, supervisor-elect of District 4, launched the strongest protest against the plan calling it a sprawling "patchwork district."

Storer said he lives 25 miles away from his new area. "If the aim is to give better and more equitable representation, Corte Madera, Larkspur and San Rafael don't get the best representation from a supervisor living 25 miles away," he argued.

Storer said there is a "great deal of opposition to the plan" and urged the board not to take any action until he took office. "I'm most affected and would like to vote on it," he said.

The plan takes populated areas from the District 1 (San Rafael) and District 2 (Ross Valley) and places them in District 4, the least populated area.

It creates a corridor in the Larkspur area which brings Dis-

Sausalito's Gabrielson Dies At 60

Carl W. Gabrielson, vice mayor of Sausalito, died last night at his home following a heart attack. He was 60.

The councilman's death was announced at 9:55 p.m. at the city council session, and Mayor Jan Paul Dyk adjourned the meeting at once.

The Sausalito city ambulance was called at 9:30 p.m. and Firemen Leonard Jukich and John Fylstra administered resuscitation for 15 minutes. Police Officer Herbert Smith applied closed chest heart massage. Gabrielson was pronounced dead at 9:50 p.m. by Dr. Charna G. Perry of Sausalito.

Gabrielson was an executive of the Robert Dollar Co. and president of Exchange Garage Inc. in San Francisco.

He was appointed to the coun-

Baker Has Brief Stint As Witness

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Bobby Baker today again defied a Senate investigating committee by refusing to answer questions about his dealings when he was a top senate aide.

The one-time page boy balked on 45 separate occasions when asked about charges that he had participated in a $25 000 political "kickback" deal. He also refused to reply when asked about Ellen Rometsch, an East German beauty who once moved in high government circles in Washington.

To every question, Baker, former Senate Democratic secretary, cited four constitutional grounds as the basis for his refusal. one of them was the 5th Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination. His attorney also persuaded the committee to blackout TV lights.

At one point he suggested that if the committee had any evidence of wrong-doing on his part, it should be submitted to a grand jury.

Baker used the same constitutional claims he used in a previous appearance before the Senate rules committee when he declined to answer questions more than 150 times. So the session with him was cut short and Philadelphia contractor Matthew H. McCoskey was called to testify after lunch.

The main topic of questioning centered on an allegation that

Home Garage Fire Damages Rare Car

Fire swept a garage adjacent to the home of Arthur Pla, 2310 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, last night, leaving a rare Frazer Manhattan automobile badly damaged.

Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton, without knowing the exact value of the car, estimated the total damages at $10,000.

The garage was gutted and smoke damage to the house was heavy, said the chief.

The three Pla children, Arthur Jr., 14, Peaches Mary Esther, 16, and Carrie Lynn, 8, were in the kitchen when they smelled smoke.

Mrs. Pla said that when the children opened the door they saw a rollaway bed smoldering in one corner of the garage. "Then poof! The smoke billowed out of the garage into the house."

The family rushed out and called firemen from a neighbor's house. Firemen said the garage was burning fiercely when they opened the door to get at the flames.

The flames burned through the wooden frame garage at only one point in the roof. Firemen fought to keep them from spreading to the house, and were aided by a sheet rock fire wall between garage and kitchen.

The call was received at the firehouse at 8:22 p.m. and in minutes 16 firemen and two trucks were at the scene. About a half hour later the fire was under control.

After it was all over, Mrs. Pla discovered that the car was badly damaged but would still run. She said the car was one of a dozen specially made in 1951, a four-door convertible, with a Continental motor, Oldsmobile transmission and Cadillac rear end.

The car was worth $6,500 new, she said, and she had spent the last four years getting it into near-mint condition. Now the paint is blistered, the top is gone, and the interior scorched.

"I don't know where I'll get the money to do it all over again," said Mrs. Pla, "Maybe a good fairy will help me out."

County Is Potential 'Playground'

By FRANK FARRARA
(First of three articles.)

Marin County has the potential to switch from the "bedroom of San Francisco" to the "playground of the San Francisco Bay Area."

This is one of the conclusions in a comprehensive general plan for parks, recreation and open space prepared by the Marin County Planning Department.

First public hearing on the plan will be held by the county planning commission next Monday. The matter is scheduled as the second item on the agenda for the commission's meeting, which starts at 9 a.m. in the Civic Center.

While Marin will attract an increasing number of recreation seekers, the plan stresses the need for developing local facilities for Marin residents.

Boat harbors, golf courses, riding and hiking trails, picnic and camping areas, and beaches and parks are listed in the plan outlining Marin's recreational needs for the next 25 years.

The 105-page plan, prepared under supervision of senior planner Walter Horchler, cites in-

County Levying Double Tax For Some Services, Novato Contends

By THERON A. NEWELL

The Novato City Council last night opposed double taxation for the residents of cities.

Specifically, it opposed Marin County levying a tax on residents of cities for city-type services which the county furnishes to some unincorporated areas.

To remedy this, it proposed two alternatives: (1) that the county form taxing districts in the unincorporated areas which are receiving city-type services, or (2) that it make rebates to cities to make up some of the inequity.

A committee composed of Mayor Robert D. Carrow, Councilman Douglas M. Merril and City Administrator J. Julien Baget was named to make a thorough study of the problems and submit a report to the council. The council will then enlist the support of the Marin County Council of Mayors and Councilmen.

"Even if we get nowhere, we must speak out against this inequity," said Merrill.

Mayor Carrow who brought up the matter, saying he thought "three of the supervisors would find it politically expedient because 90 per cent of their constituents are in incorporated cities."

"It's an age-old problem that has been going back and forth since I was first on the council," said Wayne Womack. He mentioned Terra Linda and Marinwood as prime examples of areas which receive city-type services from the county.

Carrow said Novato should have learned a lesson from failure of the Loma Verde annexation to win voter approval. "We are paying for the services these areas receive," he said.

Baget said that since Nov. 17, he has asked the Novato Police Department to keep track of the calls which it handled for the county sheriff's office. It received 16 calls for the sheriff in this period, he said.

King, Hoover Parley; FBI Actions Bared

WASHINGTON (AP) — J. Edgar Hoover told Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Tuesday that the FBI has infiltrated the Ku Klux Klan and other racist groups much as it did the Communist party, it was learned after the two had chatted in the FBI director's office.

And, King told reporters after the session, Hoover indicated arrests will be made in the next few days in the slaying of three civil rights workers near Philadelphia, Miss.

King requested the meeting and Hoover agreed to it. There was no comment from the FBI director afterward, but King, a leader in the Negroes' drive for equal opportunities and rights, told newsmen: "I might say the discussion was quite amicable."

Last month, Hoover departed from his general practice of not granting interviews and told a group of women reporters King was "the most notorious liar in this country."

King, a minister and a winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, had claimed FBI agents in Georgia, because they were Southerners, did not investigate complaints from Negroes.

Later, the Negro leader said Hoover "has apparently faltered under the awesome burden, complexities and responsibilities of his office."

Hoover's disclosure of FBI infiltration into racist organizations is the first to this effect. His comment that arrests in the Philadelphia slayings will be made in the next few days follows an FBI announcement of last week that "we know who is responsible."

Last Aug. 4, FBI agents found the bodies of the three rights workers — Michael H. Schwerner, 24; Andrew Goodman, 20, and James E. Chaney, 21—in a recently built earth dam five miles southwest of the Mississippi city. They had disappeared June 21.

Last week an FBI spokesman said "it has not yet been possible to obtain evidence or confessions that would insure successful prosecution."

Indians Welcome Pope; No Incident

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Pope Paul VI arrived today on the longest mission ever undertaken by a pontiff, was welcomed by 100,000 Indians, and said "We come as a pilgrim, a pilgrim of peace, of joy and love."

There was no single incident, although police had been prepared for hostile acts from fanatical Hindu sects opposed to the papal visit to attend the 38th International Eucharistic Congress.

Wearing a white skull cap, a red silk stole and a red brocade cape at the end of the 4,000-mile journey, Pope Paul walked down a 40-foot red carpet spread from the ramp of the plane.

Waiting to greet him were Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, a Hindu who was said at first to have opposed the Pope's visit to Hindu India; and Vice President Zakir Hussain, a Moslem.

"We rejoice in the honor of meeting you," the Pope said in his address to Shastri and Hussain.

After praising India for its efforts for world peace, the Pope added:

"We come as a pilgrim, a pilgrim of peace, of joy and love. We greet all the Indian people, every man, woman and child. And we extend our greeting to all the nations of Asia, to every nation in the world."

While there were nearly 100,000 Indians at the airport, many barefoot and wearing the dhoti or robe of their impoverished land, only about 8,000 were permitted to enter the airport. Many of these were Indian Catholics.

Minutes before the plane landed, about 2,000 Indians broke through police lines and surged across the runway seeking a better view of the leader of the world's half billion Roman Catholics.

About 2,000 police, on duty at the airport, shoved the crowd back without using violence. The police used long bamboo poles.

After the ceremonies at the airport the Pope walked to a waiting car in the motorcade assembled to drive him 13 miles into the center of Bombay.

California Voters Toppled Turnout Record, State Says

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Final official tabulations show a record 88.4 per cent of California's 8,184,143 registered voters cast ballots in the Nov. 3 general election.

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan gave this breakdown:

In 1960, 6,506,578 of the state's registered 7,464,626 voters visited the polls.

In 1964, the ballot count was 7,233,067.

Jordan also reported that President Lyndon B. Johnson received 57.7 per cent—or 4,171,877—of the California vote. Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater cornered 39.8 per cent, or 2,879,108 votes.

In the other major California race—for a U.S. Senate seat—Republican George Murphy polled 3,628,555 to incumbent Democrat Pierre Salinger's 3,411,912. That gave Murphy a margin of 216,643, or on a percentage basis — Murphy 50.2 to Salinger's 47.2.

Salinger was appointed to the Senate post last August after the death of Democratic Sen. Clair Engle.

Jordan said final figures on the ballot propositions will be released later this week.

The 1964 turnout ranged from a low of 78.9 per cent in Trinity County to a high of 90.3 in Contra Costa County.

In big Los Angeles County, where 38.3 per cent of the state's total vote resides, the turnout was 2,789,323 of a registered 3,137,195, or a percentage basis of 88.9.

Johnson, who won important Los Angeles County by a margin of 407,233 votes, also picked up 53 other counties. Goldwater was the victor in only four counties—Alpine, Mono, Orange and San Diego.

Murphy won in 32 counties, including populous Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego. Salinger carried 26 counties.

New Cigarette Claimed Safe

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — The 30-year search for a "safe cigarette" that tastes like a tobacco cigarette and is harmless has ended in a lettuce patch, the president of a new cigarette company said today.

Perry Resnick of Philadelphia, Pa., said his firm (Guardian Smoking Products, Inc.) has developed a cigarette made of lettuce leaves.

His cigarettes are "satisfying both to the taste and the family physician," Resnick said. They soon will be marketed as "the cigaret you can live with."

Early testing in eastern hospitals indicates the lettuce cigarettes have little or no effect on the circulatory system, in contrast with the effects of tobacco cigarettes, Resnick said.

The recent Surgeon General's report on cigarette smoking not only pointed out the cancer dangers in smoking, but also the injurious effect nicotine has on the circulatory system, including the heart, Resnick said.

Resnick5s cigarettes are intended to be an improvement over tobacco cigarettes "to give smokers a way to continue enjoying the smoking habit with improved tastes and without the assault of nicotine on the body," he said.

The non-tobacco cigarettes will be available in a number of varieties of aromas, tastes and flavors, he said. They are mentholated and filtered.

Resnick said only the outer wrapping of the lettuce head is used. This wrapping is seldom seen by the supermarket shopper and is thrown away by the lettuce industry, he said.

The lettuce is dehydrated, cured and baked, with the entire process taking about one week, he said.

A pilot plant will be in operation in Oklahoma by March next year, he said, with initial sales limited to Oklahoma and Texas.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Stanleyville Hit By Typhoid

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—A potentially serious outbreak of typhoid fever in Stanleyville complicated the Congolese civil war today.

Travelers who reached here yesterday from Stanleyville said hundreds of bodies still lay in the streets of the battle-scarred former rebel capital. They said captive rebels were being used to dispose of them.

The problem of cleaning up Stanleyville will be one of the first to confront Premier Moise Tshombe when he returns to Leopoldville from Paris tonight.

Viet Cong Overruns Rail Town

SAIGON, South Vietnam (UPI)—In a lightning pre-dawn strike, Communist Viet Cong guerrillas swarmed from the mountain jungles northeast of here yesterday and overran a major district capital, Vietnamese military sources said today.

The target was Thien Giao, a key railway town 101 miles northeast of here. The assault by a battalion of insurgents produced the most serious government military setback in several months.

Fourteen government troops and the district chief officer were slain. Thirty government troops were wounded.

(A Communist North Vietnam broadcast heard in Tokyo charged that 12 United States warplanes—including four jets—bombed and strafed four North Vietnamese villages yesterday in "a new act of war.")

Snow Storm Paralizes Maine

PORTLAND, Me. (AP)—The first major snowstorm of the season along the Atlantic Coast has virtually paralyzed parts of Maine with up to two feet of snow. It battered shipping from New Jersey to Nova Scotia and endangered many lives.

The snow yesterday skipped past most of the coast but struck northern and eastern Maine hard. Driven by winds which sometimes reached 60 miles per hour, the snow piled in drifts up to eight feet in some sections.

Wintry weather also prevailed across the northern half of the nation from the Rockies to the western slopes of the Appalachians, with snow and cold.

Freezing weather again nipped areas deep into the Southland, with the mercury dropping to 24 in Macon, Ga.

Barry Willing To Try For Peace Within Own Party

(EDITOR'S NOTE — In this exclusive interview, Sen. Barry Goldwater tells of plans for a GOP summit meeting and gives his views on demands by some Republicans that the party chairman be replaced.)

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater said today he plans to meet soon with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon for a "general discussion" of the Republican Party's future course.

The defeated GOP presidential nominee said in an interview on his return to Washington from Phoenix, Ariz., that he doesn't know where the summit conference discussion will lead. But he indicated he is willing to cooperate with the former president and the former vice president in trying to bring peace among the bickering factions of the Republican Party.

Goldwater said the meeting originally had been scheduled for Thursday at Eisenhower's office at Gettysburg, Pa., but had to be delayed because of Nixon's trip to Japan. He added, however, he hopes it can be fitted into the schedules of all three principals before his return to Arizona next week.

Goldwater made it clear he would encourage the formation of the kind of advisory council suggested by some GOP governors and other party leaders to bring all factions into the formation of future party policy.

"I tried to get Milton Eisenhower's group to continue its work," he said. "I thought they were making some headway."

Eisenhower, brother of the former president and head of Johns Hopkins University, is chairman of the Republican Critical Issues Council. The council, a panel of leading Republicans, issued GOP policy statements through special task forces during the recent presidential campaign.

Goldwater remained adamant in his opposition to the replacement of Republican National Chairman Dean Burch, his personal choice for the job after the San Francisco nominating convention.

"They are not going to throw Burch out," he said. "They don't have the votes."

This opposition by the presidential nominee to any replacement of the national chairman at this time was concurred in by congressional Republican leaders who think it is too early to take such drastic action.

Goldwater said he regards himself now as "a free man," able to speak out on issues of paramount interest to the nation. He indicated he no longer feels any of the restraints he implied had been placed on him as a presidential candidate in dealing with international issues.

Goldwater indicated his criticism may center on President Lyndon B. Johnson's course in the South Vietnam hostilities.

"We're in war there and it's time that the American people found out just how deeply we are involved," he said. "I pointed that out in the campaign and I am going to speak out on it some more."

Asked when he intended to "speak out," the Arizona senator replied he will do so when his newspaper column is resumed in January. He suspended publication of this column when he became an announced candidate for the GOP presidential nomination early this year.

Goldwater, who has not met with reporters except for a brief news conference in Jamaica, said he is going over to the side of the writing men and does not intend to have additional news conferences or interviews.

The senator, bronzed from his Jamaica vacation and a subsequent rest at his Phoenix home, gave no indications that he was downcast by his landslide defeat by Johnson.

"They can't discount the fact that 27 million Americans voted for me," he said.

When his interviewer noted that other Republicans contended this did not represent wholly GOP conservative strength but included Republicans who did not necessarily agree with his views but opposed Johnson and his program, Goldwater replied cryptically:

"That's what they say. I think the conservatives are going to be heard from."

Sen. Keating To Become Actor?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Will Sen. Kenneth B. Keating go to Hollywood next year and become a movie actor?

That's one of the jobs rumored for the 64-year-old New York Republican since he was defeated for re-election Nov. 3 by Robert F. Kennedy.

But all the affable silver-haired senator will say is that he has had no direct contact with anyone from Hollywood.

"Of course," he mused with tongue-in-cheek during an interview, "There's a dearth of mature stars in Hollywood now."

He was one of several unpaid senatorial consultants who helped producer Otto Preminger with the movie "Advise and Consent" several years ago.

Board Asks For Cities' Interest

The Marin Board of Supervisors moved toward planning coordination among governmental agencies in Marin yesterday.

The board asked cities to notify the county of their "sphere of interest" so the county can notify them of planning matters concerning these spheres.

In general the "sphere of interest" would include unincorporated land that might well be annexed to the city.

When the cities submit maps showing their spheres of interest," the county will send them notices of planning action in those areas "at the earliest practicable time," reported Planning Director B. D. Dobbs.

If no map is received from a city, the planning department is directed to send notices for a reasonable area around the city," Dobbs said.

Supervisors agreed that the next step is an exchange of planning information "in the other direction"—from the cities to the county.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Authorized County Administrator Alan Bruce to compile a list of legislative recommendations to be presented to Rep. Donald H. Clausen, State Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley at a public forum at the Civic Center Dec. 18.

2. Requested the county retirement board to provide more information about the costs involved in including new employees over the age of 60 in the retirement system.

3. Adopted a resolution backing a proposed three-mill tax increase for operation of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

4. Received a request from Mrs. B. A. Sifford Jr. of Larkspur, safety chairman of the A. E. Kent School Parent-Teacher Assn., to investigate the possibility of building a sidewalk from the entrance of the new College of Marin gymnasium to the entrance to Kent School. The request was referred to the department of public works.

5. Received a request from Hugh Dougherty, president of the Stinson Beach Progressive Club, for assistance in obtaining signs to direct visitors to the auto entrance to Stinson Beach State Park, to help alleviate the local parking problem. This request was also referred to the department of public works.

6. Received notice that the two-year term of Harry M. Williams as a director of the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District expires Dec. 31, and continued the matter of appointment one week.

7. Accepted the resignation of Henry B. Lacaze from the board of the Stinson Beach Fire Protection District and approved the appointment of Francis J. Ryan to the Tiburon Fire Protection District board.

8. Approved a Christmas and New Year's Eve time off policy which will allow employees to take four hours off either the afternoon of Dec. 24 or 31, providing there is no reduction in efficiency or loss of service to the public, and approved compensatory time off for safety and emergency personnel required to work on those afternoons.

9. Received notice from Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos that a driver education program was scheduled to start today for personnel who will be driving the high powered California Highway Patrol-type vehicles, recently authorized by the board.

10. Approved appointments of Gary V. Guy as draftsman, public works department; Frank Edlund as social worker, public social services department; George Oliva as deputy county physician; Wayne T. Diggs as fleet dispatcher clerk, and David M. Brown as landscape gardener, both public works department.

11. Set for Dec. 22 at 1:30 p.m. a hearing on formation of the Wolfe Glen Assessment District and raising of the proposed assessments.

12. Authorized Donald R. Frost, director of public works, to confer with Sausalito city officials to integrate plans for Bridgeway, particularly in the area of Harbor Drive, where commercial development has created a traffic problem.

13. Authorized Frost to apply to the Public Utilities Commission for an allocation from the crossing protection fund for protection at the crossing of Mar West Street and Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks, Tiburon Peninsula.

Board Gives Go-Ahead On Airport

Marin County supervisors yesterday authorized the County Department of Public Works to proceed with negotiations to acquire land for development of the Marin County Airport north of Novato.

The authorization came even though the Federal Aviation Authority turned down the county's request for funds during the 1964-65 fiscal year.

Arthur T. Knutson, assistant director of public works, said the FAA's rejection was "just a matter of priority" that put the county's bid off for a year. He said the county soon can re-apply for the funds during the 1965-66 fiscal year. The board authorized him to do so.

Highway 101 Crash Hurts Novato Driver

Robert J. Fraser, 32, of 1125 Cambridge Street, Novato, was injured at 1:40 a.m. today when his northbound car skidded into the divider strip, knocked down a road sign and bounced across Highway 101 into an embankment a third of a mile north of Spencer Avenue, near Sausalito.

Fraser was reported in good condition at Marin General Hospital with bruises on his neck, back, left arm and shoulder.

Park Work Sought

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The State Office of Architecture and Construction yesterday invited bids for an estimated $100,000 worth of water system improvements at Columbia State Historic Park in Tuolumne County.

Hamilton Seeks Supply Offers

The base procurement office at Hamilton Air Force today issued inviations for bids and announced awarding of contracts.

Bids were invited to supply teletype paper, for landscaping and maintenance of trees, and for telephone equipment and component parts in Bldg. 410 at the base.

Shields Construction Co. of Novato was awarded a $6,229 contract for repairs and alterations to dormatories. W. K. McLellan Co. of San Anselmo was given a $8,080 contract for maintenance and repairs to roads at the Mill Valley Air Force Station.

Water Board Agrees To Aid In Irrigation

The North Marin County Water District board last night agreed that it would work with the City of Novato to provide the cheapest irrigation possible for the islands in Highway 101.

The city council last night approved an agreement with the State Division of Highways for planning the landscaping in the highway islands through the city.

"I hope the state plans the irrigation system also, because they have more experience than either this district or the city," said Jerome B. Gilbert, water district manager.

The board authorized Gilbert to work with architect John Bolles on plans to locate a 7,500 square foot office building on the district corporation yard site off Atherton Avenue at the Northwestern Pacific Railroad. The district has been negotiating with Luigi Garaventa for adjacent property, but has not reached an agreement, Gilbert said.

Gilbert was also asked to propose a method of enforcing the regulation that water customers who have wells install a backflow preventive device costing $30. Approximately 120 customers in the district are affected, he said.

Board members and Gilbert will attend a meeting at 8 p.m. Friday at Marshall School on annexation of the Marshall area to the water district.

Wife Says Mate Termed Self No Good

Former airline stewardess Janet Jones, 42, testified yesterday in her divorce trial in Marin Superior Court that her millionaire husband frequently came home from sessions of infidelity and termed himself "no damn good."

In fact, she said, on one occasion Preston Jones, 52-year-old San Leandro lighting equipment manufacturer, returned to declare that "all married men" are no good and all are "rotten S.O.B.'s."

On this occasion, as on others, she testified, she accepted him and "we reconciliated."

Jones worked hard at his job, she admitted, and "built an empire." But unfortunately he was often unable to "perform his husbandly duties," especially after he had been out chasing other women, she said.

Mrs. Jones, plaintiff and cross-defendant in suits largely dealing with charges of infidelity, support, and community property settlement, is claiming Jone's Prescolite Corp. in San Leandro and seven other corporations are community property. She alleges he was worth $200,000 when they married 12 years ago, and is now worth about four milion dollars.

Jones, through attorneys Franklin Stark and Suren Toomajian, has declared only the couple's San Rafael home, at 16 Marina Way and worth $100,000, and their $30,000 Squaw Valley cabin are community property.

George Olson, certified public accountant with Price-Waterhouse and Co., San Francisco, testified this morning of his financial examinations of all companies involved.

The trial is before Judge Samuel W. Gardiner.

Golden Gate Bridge District is Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato, who was appointed two years ago to succeed Matt A. Graham of San Anselmo, who had served 20 years on the board. That appointment was also 3-to-2, with Castro, Gnoss and Behr voting to appoint Hardcastle and Fusselman and Ludy sticking with Graham.

County Gets Some Sunshine

The sun broke through over Marin today and the Weather Bureau predicted clearing would be complete by tonight and would hold through tomorrow at least.

Rainfall figures for 24 hours at 8 a.m. were minimal, with Point Reyes, San Anselmo and Ross all reporting .08 of an inch; Mill Valley, .04; Fairfax, Belvedere and Chevy Chase (Larkspur), .02; Novato and Larkspur, a trace.

San Rafael had a brief shower around 10:30 a.m., but the 24-hour total at noon was only .05 inch.

Soviets Hint At Compromise

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk met with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today amid reports that the Russians have shown some signs of willingness to compromise on the U.N. financial issue.

U.S. sources said Gromyko had indicated an interest in possible Soviet payments into a general U.N. fund. Just what that fund would be or how much the Russians would pay into it has not been defined, the sources added.

Today's assembly agenda appeared noncontroversial enough with a parade of speakers slated to welcome Malawai, Malta and Zambia, which were admitted Tuesday to bring the U.N. membership to 115.

cil April 16, 1963, to fill out the term of Councilman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr., who resigned. He ran for election last April and led a field of 10 candidates, receiving 1,224 votes.

The councilman had served 22 years in the Far East with the Dollar interests. He was interned during World War II by the Japanese at Los Banos in the Philippines. He was rescued by troops under Gen. Douglas MacArthur 15 minutes before he was scheduled to be executed.

He was vice president of the American Committee for the Kiyosato Educational Experiment Project of Japan, and chairman of the Keep Committee for the San Francisco-Osaka People-to-People Program.

He was a former director of the Sausalito Rotary Club and a director of the San Francisco Garage and Parking Assn. At time of his election he was a director of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum and, although he resigned the post, he was working on a project to obtain lumber for use in construction of exhibits and cages at the museum.

Gabrielson was a plant collector and had his own "painted garden" of rocks and succulents, and frequently gave talks in the Bay Area on gardening and photography.

He was born in a log cabin in Idaho, five miles from the nearest community, later moving to Puyallup, Wash., with his family. He worked his way through University of Washington where he was on the freshman crew and was graduated in business administration.

"I'm deeply shocked and terribly sorry," said Councilman Earl F. Dunphy last night. He said he had talked to Gabrielson Monday evening by telephone, discussing the proposed Bridgeway sea wall and police matters, and that Gabrielson had intended to be at last night's council meeting.

Mayor Dyk said he felt that he had lost a very good friend and extremely capable colleague.

"He was a great citizen of Sausalito who gave unstintingly of his time and effort," commented Councilman Melvin S. Wax. "I'm sure I express the view of everybody in Sausalito."

Funeral arrangements are pending at Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael.

Flags will fly half staff in Sausalito until the funeral, said City Mgr. Charles A. Brown today.

Tyro Yegg Batters Safe —$200 Loot

An amateur safe-racker with a pick-axe mutilated the safe at the San Rafael Nursery, 1580 Lincoln Avenue, Monday night, and made off with $175 to $200, according to San Rafael police.

Rudy M. Flynn, brother of the nursery owner, entered yesterday morning to find the safe "hacked to pieces," police said.

After removing the hinges from the office door, the safe-cracker made several attempts to get into the safe before having any luck.

Inspector Thomas Cheetham said the yegg first knocked off the dial and removed the hinges from the door, which got him nowhere. The dial was not to be found yesterday.

Next, the safe-cracker picked up a pick and some of the nursery's pruning tools and began to hack away at the side of the safe. He finally succeeded in making a one-inch hole through the side, through which he used a piece of wire to remove a money sack.

Cheetham called it "a very crude job."

Businessmen Bookmaking Ring Bared

OAKLAND (AP) — Four businessmen and a salesman have been arrested in what vice squad detectives called the break-up of a $10,000 a day bookmaking ring.

Oakland Police Lt. Garrett Kyle said the investigation took two months and gave few other details except that the ring took bets "on anything — horse racing, football, boxing — any professional sport."

Police said more arrests were expected.

Arrested were:

Edward Rosenkrantz, 56, owner of Edward's Clothiers.

San Rafael Girl Hurt In Crash

A 17-year-old San Rafael girl suffered a small cut on one ear and a minor knee scrape when the car in which she was riding collided with another in the Montecito Shopping Center parking lot at 8:15 a.m. yesterday.

San Rafael police said drivers in the private property accident were Jack M. Price of 139 Paseo Way, Greenbrae, and Edward M. Long of 100 Bay Vista Way, Apt. 156, San Rafael.

Hurt was Patricia Ann Miller of 1305 Second Street, Apt. 1, a passenger in Long's car.

Strawberry Jam Group Seeks Funds

The Strawberry Jam Committee is seeking contributions to help it fight to save the bay, Mrs. Donald J. DeGeller of 32 Harbor Cove Way, Mill Valley, said today. She said donations may be sent either to the committee in care of DeGeller or in care of George Lopes of 30 Harbor Cove Way.

A suit has been filed in Marin Superior Court by 17 Strawberry residents to stop dredging and and fill in the Strawberry area.

Chariot Race Set Again At College

A chariot race at the College of Marin, originally scheduled for homecoming week but postponed several times because of rain, will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow on the football field at the Kentfield campus.

Mandatory Smog Devices Are Opposed

The Bay Area Air Pollution Control District board, headed by Dr. Charles W. Aby of San Rafael, turned thumbs down today on the mandatory installation of exhaust control devices on used cars.

The air pollution board, meeting in San Francisco, recommended against triggering the law that would make exhaust control devices mandatory on all cars after the 1962 models.

William A. Gnoss of Novato, member of the board, put it this way: If the exhaust control device could be installed for about $25, it might be a good idea. But at the indicated cost of $100 installation and $50 per year maintenance, the cost may be too high to impose on the motoring public.

Donald A. Jensen, executive officer of the State Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board, presented the cost figures.

Jensen, who pushed through the mandatory installation of crankcase devies (less costly—about $13 to $20 to install), recommended against the exhaust devices as too expensive.

Decision on whether exhaust devices will be made mandatory is expected to come on Dec. 16, when the California Motor Vehicle Pollution Control board meets in Los Angeles.

BAKER

the $25,000 political "kickback" scheme had channeled an overpayment on a government stadium contract into Democratic campaign coffers in 1960.

The question about Ellen Rometsch was raised by Sen. Carl T. Curtis,(R-Neb.), shortly before Baker was dismissed from the witness stand.

Curtis also asked wether Baker had used influence in the award of a controversial TFX fighter plan contract to General Dynamics Corp.

The Senator also questioned whether Walter Jenkins, former aide to President Lyndon B. Johnson, had helped settle a vending company suit involving Baker.

Baker firmly refused to answer the Curtis questions.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, (R-Ky.), asked Baker if he knew of any "wrong doing or misconduct" by any Senator or Senate employe. Baker declined to answer.

Before Baker was summoned under subpoena,a former House employe told the committee that a $1,500 payment he received from insurance agent Don B. Reynolds was "a gift" and had nothing to do with the stadium contract.

It was Reynolds who opened the hearing yesterday by describing himself as the "bagman" in the alleged kickback transaction. He said it involved contractor McCloskey, longtime Democratic party fund-raiser and former official.

As he did before, Baker cited the 1st, 4th, 5th, and 6th amendments to the constitution as grounds for his refusal to answer questions. The 5th Amendment involves the refusal to testify on grounds of possible self-incrimination.

Baker's initial refusal to cooperate came when he informed the Senators that he would not submit subpoenaed records on alleged political contributions. He rattled off the four constitutional grounds.

Plans Announced For Marin City

One hundred and 25 residents of Marin City's low-rent housing units met last night to hear plans by the housing authority to better the appearance of buildings and grounds.

There will be an annual inspection of all apartments, said Bruce S. Gardiner, assistant executive director, and new landscaping to correct erosion.

Also discussed were ways to keep paper and litter up from grounds.

DISTRICTS

trict 4 out into San Pablo Bay around San Quentin Point and then back into downtown San Rafael.

Under the new districting, San Rafael will be in two supervisorial districts, with Mission Avenue as the principal dividing line. Generally the area north of Mission Avenue will remain in District 1, while the area south of Mission, including downtown San Rafael, will be in District 4.

The dividing line runs eastward along Fourth Street from the San Anselmo city limit to H Street, then north to Mission, east on Mission to Irwin, and then south on Irwin to the San Rafael Canal, down the center of the canal and out around San Quentin Point.

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis urged the board not to adopt any plan which will divide San Rafael because of the "community of interests" in the city.

McInnis said San Rafael is not seeking two supervisorial votes and can be "completely represented by one person."

Supervisor Chairman William A. Gnoss said he didn't see any problem in having two supervisors representing one city because "supervisors represent all the people." The city has a city council to work for it, he said.

Larkspur Mayor Neil R. Brixon asked the board to postpone action on Leydecker's plan and consider other plans. "A better plan can be arranged," he claimed.

The plan also divides the city of Larkspur between two supervisorial districts, and Brixon said "it is difficult for a city of 7,000 to work with two supervisors."

The corridor which takes District 4 to San Pablo Bay cuts through from the open area south of Kent Woodlands, runs south of Murray Park to Corte Madera Creek and out the creek around San Quentin Point.

This places the major part of Larkspur in District 4, but leaves the portion north of Corte Madera Creek in District 2.

Mayor Edward W. Colhurst of Corte Madera said there had been "short prior notice" on the plan and suggested the board postpone action.

The district populations and percentages are: District 1—36,307, 20.4 per cent; District 2—36,314, 20.4 per cent; District 3—41,177, 23.1 per cent; District 4—33,713, 18.9 per cent, and District 5—30,860, 17.3 per cent.

District 4 had only 3.9 per cent of the population under the "stop-gap" redictricting adopted by the supervisors last Jan. 30. Before that, it had only 1.8 per cent.

While giving population, the plan takes a large land area of northwestern Marin from District 4 and places it in District 5, with the dividing line along the center of Tomales Bay. Nicasio and Tomales are now in District 5.

Storer objected to this, contending the agricultural area should remain intact.

Under the plan District 4 includes Point Reyes, Stinson Beach, San Geronimo Valley, a piece of Kent Woodlands, major part of Larkspur, Corte Madera, San Quentin and the southern half of San Rafael.

An alternate proposal was offered by Mrs. Winifred Fredericks of Lagunitas, secretary of the original supervisorial redistricting committee, but supervisors did not take it under consideration.

The plan adopted will violate community of interests, topographical and geographical considerations and "will be the end of rural representation on the board," Mrs. Fredericks said. It will be "de facto disenfranchising of voters in rural areas," she contended.

Supervisor - elect Ernest N. Kettenhofen of District 2, said he worked many hours devising 10 designs for redistricting, but none would accomplish the change better than Leydecker's plan.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said any plan submitted "would be subject to serious criticism." He said the plan adopted "looks odd because it is capturing population that doesn't exist in the western end."

Leydecker said a solution to the representation problem may be in having supervisors elected at-large from districts, and said the board will seek legislation toward this end. (State law forbids this method of election except where provided by county charter.)

Barrows said one of the changes from the map submitted by Leydecker, which was drawn in rough on a census tract map that did not show city lines, was made by switching a portion of the upper Lucas Valley from the Fifth to the First District, and another strip south of Hamilton Air Force Base from the First to the Fifth District. He said this was done to make the lines follow boundaries of the Dixie Elementary School District (San Rafael and Larkspur Elementary School District lines are not followed).

The West Marin land area was extended to Muir Beach, but not including the village area there. Barrows said this was to bring it in line with the Bolinas-Stinson School District boundary.

The Third District was changed slightly to eliminate a small portion of Larkspur. As a result Larkspur will be in two supervisorial districts instead of three.

Schreiber, Inverness, Is Buried

Burial services were held at Olema Cemetery yesterday for long-time Inverness resident Brock C. Schreiber, who died in a local hospital Nov. 21 after a long illness.

He was 88 years old.

Schreiber lived in a home built in first valley of Inverness in 1886. He arrived in Inverness as a summer visitor in 1887, camping in Second Valley.

In a 1961 interview with an Independent - Journal reporter Schreiber said there were only two houses in Second Valley at that time and he believed they belonged to Digger Indians.

"I used to build boats," he told the reporter, "and used to row across Tomales Bay for passengers. We used to put out crab nets, get crabs and cook them on the beach."

Schreiber's activities were limited due to poor health in recent years. However, he continued to walk forth each day with a silver-headed cane which belonged to his grandfather.

Schreiber, who leaves no close relatives, was a brother of the late Grace Wolf of Inverness.

He was one of the founding directors of the Inverness Improvement Assn. He was the owner of a wharf and boathouse in Inverness where he built his boats and rented boat yard services.

HOPPS EXTORTION TRIAL TO JURORS

Defense Claims Ex-Belvedere Tycoon Made Up Story To Get Court Leniency

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO—A jury of five women and seven men began deliberations today to decide if two Chicago insurance men, Paul and Allen Dorfman, are guilty of threatening former Belvedere insurance man Stewart B. Hopps.

The trial, in its 13th day today, is being held before Federal District Judge William T. Sweigert who completed his instructions to the jury this morning.

The Dorfmans are accused of threatening Hopps' life to force the return of a $100,000 investment that vanished after the Dorfmans put it in one of Hopps' insurance companies.

Yesterday in his final arguments, defense attorney Harvey Silets of Chicago said the extortion story has to be a fabrication because Hopps is afraid of nothing except jail.

Silets charged that Hopps made up the stories of threats from the Dorfmans, hoping to get some leniency from the federal government which is about to send the former Marin resident to jail for 18 months on a mail fraud conviction.

Silets described Hopps as "the most artful and cunning of thieves."

Government prosecutor Robert Peloquin earlier said that Hopps was "a sharp operator, a man who wheels and deals with all kinds of people and recognizes a threat when he hears one."

Supervisors Opposing Bay Drain

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday adopted a resolution opposing construction of the San Luis Interceptor Drain.

The resolution expressed concern over the proposed discharge of agricultural and other waste waters from the central valley into San Francisco Bay via the drain. It was adopted unanimously, on motion of Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker.

The San Luis Drain has been proposed by the State Department of Water Resources and U. S. Bureal of Reclamation as part of the state water program. It would carry waste waters from the central valley agricultural districts to a point near the Antioch Bridge.

Both the San Francisco Bay and Central Valley Regional Water Pollution Control Boards have forbidden discharge of waste waters via the proposed drain until evidence is provided that this would not pollute the water of San Francisco Bay. The Assn. of Bay Area Governments has gone on record against the project.

Proposition 14 Blamed For 13 Firings In City

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Redevelopment Agency will fire 13 employees—one-fifth of its staff—by Jan. 1 because the federal government has cut off funds for projects, according to the agency director.

Director M. Justin Herman said yesterday there was no explanation for the slashing of funds, but he presumed it was because of passage by California voters last month of Proposition 14.

Herman said the U.S. Housing and Home Finance Agency had not executed a loan and grant contract for a 107 million dollars renewal project.

The city agency might have to be torn down, Herman said, if $184,000 to study three more projects doesn't come from the federal agency.

City's Movies To Open Again

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The lights will go on again on the marquees of 46 San Francisco movie houses following settlement today of an 18-day strike-lockout involving the Moving Picture Operators Union.

A union spokesman said the dispute was settled, Details were not immediately available.

Agreement to end the dispute came after Richard Walsh, president of the parent union, the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, came here from New York this week to participate in negotiations.

Store Money Stolen

Someone stole $80.70 over a period of two days from the Aquarium Beautiful, 1409 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, Ruby Lee Miller of the store told police yesterday. The money was believed taken by someone with a key.

Hilarita Housing Project Rents To Rise 10 Per Cent

Marin County Housing Authority commissioners yesterday ordered a rent increase of about 10 per cent for residents of Hilarita housing in Tiburon.

Rents, last set in June of 1960, will go up in February, said Donald O. Stutsman, executive director. They are, for unfurnished aparatments, studio apartments now renting at $48 go to $53 per month; one bedroom apartments, from $56 to $63; two-bedroom, from $64 to $72, and three-bedroom from $70 to $79. Furnished apartments cost from $5 to $10 more than unfurnished ones, said Stutsman.

The authority agreed to apply to the Public Housing Administration for budget reservations to establish the housing for the elderly approved by Marin voters in the November election.

Commissioners discussed a request for $3,000 from Marin City Community Services District to make repairs on the community center building, then in an ensuing meeting of the Redevelopment Agency Commission, referred the matter to Attorney Leland H. Jordan, who is to draft a contract.

The commission approved salary increases for all personnel, effective next spring.

Plans for the St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church were approved subject to final

Bay Fill Plan Alternate To Be Proffered

An alternate plan to replace bay fill measures in the proposed San Rafael General Plan will be submitted to the city council by the Glenwood Homeowners Assn., 16 members of the group learned from their directors last night.

A discussion of the plan, and another on subdivision covenants, took up the bulk of the hour and one-half meeting, according to secretary Stephen G. Crowley.

Crowley said details of the group's home Christmas lighting contest will be announced soon. Members will decorate the subdivision entrance Dec. 12.

The association's 1965 slate of officers will be elected at the Jan. 5 meeting.

Soldier Taken East Under Army Guard

Johnson, 43, was held at Sixth Army headquarters here after he surrendered in Reno to police last Wednesday.

Shell Eyes Second Race For Governor

FRESNO (AP)—Joseph C. Shell, beaten by Richard M. Nixon in the 1962 Republican primary election for the gubernatorial nomination, is interested in trying again.

Shell, former Republican floor leader of the State Assembly, said last night that financial considerations will be a determining factor in his decision to run in 1966.

Meeting Canceled

The Sausalito Planning Commission cancelled its meeting for tonight because of the death of Vice Mayor Carl W. Gabrielson, City Mgr. Charles A. Brown said today. Planning commissioners will meet next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in City Hall.

This Week, I'm The Postman!

Thousands of dollars have just gone out to the members of our 1964 Christmas Club. It's especially welcome because it comes at a time when it's needed the most.

If you would like to have all your year-end expenses paid for in advance, then join our Christmas Club for 1965. Do it this week.

Tam Fire Group Bills Marin In Span Closing

Marin County supervisors received a bill from the Tamalpais Fire Protection District yesterday for $736.67.

The district said the $763.67 in expenses were incurred when the bridge at Poplar Street, Tamalpais Valley, was closed during Coyote Creek construction.

Construction split the district, requiring the fire chief to station men and equipment on the other side of the bridge, the district claimed.

Donald R. Frost, public works director, said that although the bridge was out, two others were open. The district had been notified of the closing and should have worked something out with the county, he said.

The district listed expenses including salary for a fireman and relief fireman, rental of quarters, and utilities and phone and radio equipment.

Supervisors authorized Frost to confer with the fire chief on the expenses and report in two weeks.

Larkspur Is Meeting On Road Plan

The Larkspur City Council will take up the program for urban thoroughfare development for the 1965-66 fiscal year at tonight's meeting set for 8 o'clock at the city hall.

City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper said he will recommend council approval of a request for county funds to purchase the abandoned Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way from Baltimore Avenue north to Magnolia Avenue.

The following year, he said, the city may build a road along the right of way clear to Corte Madera, with one lane on either side of the now used railroad tracks south of Baltimore Avenue.

The council will also be presented with the budget of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission for the last six months of 1965, allowing the commission to operate on a calendar year basis.

Also on the agenda for further discussion is a franchise for a community television antenna service for either Television Communications, Inc., or Clear View Cable Systems, Inc.

Two Plead Guilty In Stab Attack

Angel R. Nino and Joseph A. Steinaker, San Quentin Prison inmates scheduled for trial in Marin Superior Court yesterday on a charge of stabbing a fellow-inmate, instead entered pleas of guilty.

Penalty, prescribed by law, is one year to life, and is to run consecutively to their current prison terms.

The men stabbed Leroy Scruggs in the chest and arm with a seven-inch blade weapon last April 6. He recovered. Nino and Steinaker are serving five-year to life sentences for first degree robbery in Los Angeles County.

Prison Camp Escape Rash Goes On, 2 More

Two inmates escaped from a San Quentin Prison conservation camp in Mendocino County last night, and another man who left the same camp Sunday was caught in Fort Bragg at 6:55 a.m. today.

Five inmates have escaped from the same camp in little more than 48 hours.

Missing at the Parlin Fork camp's 9-10 p.m. count yesterday were Charles Walter Leonard, 31, and Robert Keith Wilburn, 33. Associate Warden James W. L. Park said they were last seen at 7 p.m., and were presumed to have left on foot, wearing prison garb.

Two more inmates left a few hours after Murphy. They were arrested by a Fort Bragg police officer on a logging road early Monday.

Leonard was convicted in 1958 on a charge of second degree murder, after killing his stepson during a quarrel in Los Angeles County. He was sentenced to a term of five years to life.

Wilburn has been at San Quentin since he was returned as a parole violator in 1962. He was convicted in Del Norte County of second degree burglary.

Park said searchers believed the fugitives were heading into the country of the famed "Skunk Line" railway. Deputies planned to look for them there today.

Noting that it is rare for so many inmates to escape from the same camp at one time, Park said he has asked prison officials to investigate the possibility of a connection between them. But he predicted it would prove to be a coincidence.

Eight Marin Artists In Women's Exhibit

Eight Marin County artists are showing works in the 39th annual exhibition of the San Francisco Women Artists at the San Francisco Museum of Art. The exhibit, in the War Memorial Building at Civic Center, runs through Dec. 13.

Marin artists are Eleanor Bender of San Anselmo; Laura Devendorf and Bette Klopf of Mill Valley; Ada Garfinkel of Kentfield; Rose O'Kane and Gwen Stone of San Rafael; Helen Steinau Rich of Belvedere and Inez Storer of Point Reyes.

Janitor Shoots Down Guard's Tale Of Beating

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Police say a hospital night watchman's story of how three Negroes beat him last Friday and took his gun has been contradicted by the hospital janitor.

Police had reported watchman David Mercurio, 27, told them he was beaten by the three men who said they were avenging the death of a Negro boy shot to death by a policeman in New York.

But janitor Leroy Collins, 28, who also works at St. Luke's Hospital, said he took Mercurio's gun from him in a fight in the hospital hallway, police said Tuesday.

"I decked him and took his gun away because he wouldn't give me my keys," Collins was quoted as saying.

Berkeleyan Proposes To Draft Fairfax Park Plan

A Berkeley parks and recreation planner offered his services as a consultant to Fairfax last night and the Fairfax Parks and Recreation Commission decided to consider hiring him.

Planner James Saalwaechter described the services he could offer in helping the Fairfax commission acquire land and plan a parks system. Commission members agreed to meet with Saalwaechter soon to show him the physical layout of Fairfax and get more concrete ideas from him.

Fairfax has no parks master plan and commission members said they were not sure the city needs one right now, but decided to hear out the Berkeley planner. He would work on a part time basis, keeping his job in Berkeley.

The commission adjourned early last night to visit the Fairfax Pavilion in Fairfax Park. They discussed possible improvements to the pavilion, but decided to wait on decision to see what improvement the Lions Club is considering.

12 British Nuclear Aides Out Since 1950

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson has disclosed that 12 British nuclear scientists and government officials have been removed from their jobs for security reasons since 1950.

Wilson told the House of Commons yesterday the men were removed because they were foreign-born, had relatives behind the Iron Curtain, or for both reasons.

KENNEDY CENTER GROUND BROKEN

LBJ Calls Memorial To 'Bring Worlds Of Poetry, Power Together'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Lyndon B. Johnson, presiding at ground breaking for a national cultural center that will perpetuate the name of John F. Kennedy, said today it will "bring together the worlds of poetry and power — to the benefit of each."

The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts will rise on the banks of the Potomac a short distance upstream from the Lincoln Memorial. It was, Johnson said, conceived under the Eisenhower administration, encouraged by the late President Kennedy, and named in Kennedy's memory by act of Congress.

The center, Johnson predicted, will become a living force for encouraging art, an institution that will come "to reflect and advance the greatness of America," that will "symbolize our belief that the world of creation and thought are at the core of our civilization."

The 46 million-dollar center will give Washington, for the first time, a focal point for cultural activities and the arts comparable with those of other national capitals.

Far too often, Johnson said, American actors and singers and musicians must travel to other countries to be heard. Now, he said, they will have a stage in the capital of their own nation.

Sen.-elect Robert F. Kennedy shared in the ceremonies on the banks of the Potomac and actors Sir John Gielgud and Jason Robards Jr. read from the late president's speeches and his favorite passages from Shakespeare.

The symbolic spade wielded by Johnson is the same gold-plated tool used 50 years ago and half a mile down river at ground-breaking ceremonies for the Lincoln Memorial.

'Young Turk' GOP House Members Win Caucus Bid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "Young Turk" Republicans in the House, overriding leadership wishes today won their fight for a mid-December caucus. At the meeting, GOP lawmakers will be asked to set a new course for their party.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford, (R-Mich.), chairman of the House Republican Conference (or caucus), called the meeting for Dec. 16 in the House chamber. Ford said he acted after "A substantial number" of GOP members had pressed him to do so.

In his notice to members, Ford said House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana approved the meeting. Actually, Halleck's position had been that no meeting was needed prior to one previously set for the morning of Jan. 4, just before the 89th Congress convenes.

In effect, the formal call for an advance caucus came as a rebuke to Halleck. It was engineered in part by members who are not wholly satisfied with Halleck's leadership. Some Republican congressmen have said it could result in an open fight to replace Halleck.

Sausalito Faces 4 Lanes Or 2

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Four lanes or two became the prime question last night before the Sausalito City Council in discussing plans for repairing the Bridgeway sea wall between Princess and Richardson streets.

No action was taken, since the meeting was adjourned immediately by Mayor Jan Paul Dyk when he learned at 9:55 p.m. of the death of Vice Mayor Carl W. Gabrielson of a heart attack. (See story page 1.)

The meeting was adjourned to Tuesday with no other subject being discussed.

Sea wall engineering was under discussion to give City Engineer B. J. Whitlow guidance as to development plans for Bridgeway. He is to present a proposal to the County Urban Thoroughfare Committee Monday.

The city is eligible to obtain $71,000 in county funds for the proposed work. If it approves a plan which would eventually mean widening the 2,000 feet of roadway to four lanes, it may receive $259,000 in gasoline tax funds.

Unless the city approves the four lanes, said Whitlow, he does not think the money can be obtained. He emphasized that under "the grandest plan of all," the sea wall would be moved out about 40 feet to give an 80-foot right-of-way.

The engineer suggested that, under this plan, there might be two lanes for moving traffic, one lane for tourists to view the panorama, and the remainder of the area could be devoted to landscape and esplanade. The roadway, now 26 feet wide, would be 40 feet. He estimated total cost at $331,000.

Four other plans were described by Whitlow. The first one, to cost $92,000, would consist of two nine and one-half foot traffic lanes, a seven-foot parking lane and a parapet along the water's edge for pedestrian and vehicle safety. The wall would be concrete. The present wall is in need of repair, said Whitlow, but is not in imminent danger of collapsing.

The other plans would vary the street width and use different types of material ranging from sand fill to rock for the wall. He estimated their costs at $382,000, $260,000 and $190,000.

All proposed walls would have a life of 20 to 30 years, said Whitlow.

"What are you going to do with those other two lanes?" asked Councilman Eleanor O'Hara Chapin. "It's obvious they are not going to go through Second and South streets."

"I wish I had the answers to these questions," replied Whitlow. "To me it (four lanes) adds up to good sense. The only problem is it adds up to money."

Councilman Melvin S. Wax said he believes a 32-foot wide road is "good," and favors no parking on the outboard side.

"Would we get the money if we said we never would develop it to four lanes?" asked Wax.

"I don't think so," replied Whitlow.

Richard Smith in the audience presented two plans of his own. One would widen the nine and one-half foot lanes to two 12-foot lanes and provide a boardwalk at the water edge. This would make a 32-foot wide roadway as recommended by the city planning commission, he said. A second plan would use diagonal parking on the west side of Bridgeway, widen the present two lanes to 12 feet, and create a cantilevered boardwalk, making Bridgeway 41 feet curb to curb.

"I don't think we want four lanes through Sausalito," said Smith.

The audience, who filled the chambers and had seven standees, applauded loudly.

The planning commission feels additional traffic from the south should not be encouraged, commented Commissioner Alan D. Bonapart. Again the audience applauded.

Ronald MacAnnan, owner of the Ondine property, said he favors a cantilevered boardwalk and two 12-foot traffic lanes.

"Let's get this back to the planning commission," urged John Harlan.

Harlan had just finished speaking when Dyk announced he had some bad news. Reading a note given him by City Mgr. Charles A. Brown, he said, "I just heard word that Mr. Gabrielson has passed away and we should adjourn the meeting." The meeting was adjourned.

Brazil Blockades Peron Return Plan

officials of the foreign, justice and military ministries. "Peron will not remain in Brazilian territory," Castello Branco was quoted as saying.

Peron, with eight companions, was held aboard the jetliner for 70 minutes, presumably making up his mind what to do. He conferred briefly with Brazilian foreign officials and airliner executives.

Then he emerged from the plane and was taken in a station wagon with his companions to the air force officers club at the other end of the airfield.

The foreign office said Peron was forbidden to continue his flight because "Brazil does not want to be a jumping-off place for political agitation," with friendly Argentina.

(In Buenos Aires, where Peron followers are estimated to total 2 million, Argentine President Arturo U. Illia conferred with key cabinet members. Police reinforcements were posted outside radio and television stations. Mounted police were readied for possible street disorders. Military sources said any plane bearing Peron over Argentine territory would be shot down. In Montevideo, government sources said Peron would not be allowed to land there.)

Newsmen and photograpers, who were at the airport awaiting the expected arrival of French actress Brigitte Bardot, were not permitted to approach Peron.

No plane landed or took off in the 70 minutes Peron spent with his party aboard the jetliner. The terminal terrace was crowded with irritated passengers of other airlines.

Peron was ousted from power in Argentina in 1955. He settled down to exile in Spain five years later after brief stays in Paraguay — of which he is an honorary citizen — Panama and the Dominican Republic.

Peron was an army captain when he began his rise to power in 1943, by building up a fanatical following of "descamisados," the shirtless ones.

Peron was elected president in 1946. The Argentine economy deteriorated steadily under Peron. In 1951, he crushed an army revolt; in 1954, Peron cracked down on the Roman Catholic church and was excommunicated. He was ousted in September, 1955, after a three day revolt by the armed forces.

Novato Gets 'Bargain' In Furniture

The Novato City Council, which cannot pass up a bargain in office equipment, will find itself in the used furniture business.

The city, which purchased a "package deal" of used office equipment from Marin County when the Civic Center was opened, last night bought another "package deal" of office equipment from a closed business which was less than a year old.

The councilmen agreed it was a bargain, procuring equipment valued at $3,900 for $1,200. Included in this are an electric typewriter, executive desks, secretary desks, four black leather office chairs, and other equipment such as filing cabinets which the city can use.

However, also included are a Scandanavian davenport, matching chair, a lamp table and lamp, a cigarette table and cigarette box.

The councilmen agreed the city would probably sell these items.

Injuries Cause Traffic Death

Injuries suffered when he was hit by a car caused the death of Peter A. Divita of San Rafael last Thursday, an autopsy disclosed.

Asst. County Coroner William C. Bradley today announced the autopsy showed the 57-year-old Divita, who resided at 908 Fifth Avenue, died of injuries including fractures of both shoulder blades and his left leg, and internal injuries.

Divita was walking across Fifth Avenue at Nye Street at 7:30 p.m. on Nov. 21 when he was hit by a car driven by James H. McKenney of 147 Broadmoor Avenue, San Anselmo, according to San Rafael police, who cited McKenney for failure to yield the right of way to a pedestrian.

His death was the second pedestrian fatality in San Rafael this year. Thirty-nine persons have been killed in Marin traffic this year.

Liquor License Hearing Canceled

An appeal hearing on a liquor license for the Belvedere Tennis Club slated for 10 a.m. today in San Rafael was cancelled.

The State Alcoholic Beverage Control Department office in Santa Rosa said the hearing was cancelled because the tennis club withdrew its petition appealing a department decision not to grant it a license.

Dr. Corbett Jury Being Selected

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Selection of a jury for the trial of Dr. Robert K. Corbett, 29, of San Francisco on an abortion charge began in U. S. District Court today.

Corbett, brother of Donald G. Corbett Jr., who was murdered in his Sausalito apartment March 27, is charged with inducing an abortion Nov. 17 at Veterans Administration Hospital at Fort Miley.

Because the alleged crime occurred on a federal reservation, the case becomes a federal one. Court observers believe this is the first abortion case to be tried in a federal court in San Francisco. Trial judge is Albert C. Wollenberg.

Laotians Recapture Lost Positions

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The Laotian army recaptured yesterday the positions lost Monday to the Pathet Lao in the Tha Thom sector and killed 37 Pathet Lao soldiers in the battle, Western military sources reported.

Tha Thom is a small town on the road from the Plaine des Jarres to Pak Sane, a Mekong River community below Vietiane.

Housewives Launch Anti-Bay Fill Drive

Two irate housewives, one of whom waded into mud last Sunday to serve injunction papers against the filling of tidelands at Strawberry, announced today they would launch a signature drive in an effort to stop the project.

Mrs. Robert M. Allen of 301 East Strawberry Drive, who got stuck in the mud while serving legal papers Sunday afternoon, and Mrs. Donald J. DeGeller of 32 Harbor Cove Way, declared they hope to present a petition to the county board of supervisors next Tuesday.

"This is a big monster we're fighting," said Mrs. DeGeller, "and we're just small individuals. But we're trying to get the supervisors to hold up the project for another review."

Court hearing on the restraining order is set for Monday. In the meantime, Harbor Cove Corp. is continuing its dredging operations offshore. It plans to fill a 14-acre tideland which it owns near Strawberry Point School.

Youth Sentenced For Shop Burglary

Marin Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr., Monday sentenced Nathaniel Christy, 21, of San Francisco to 90 days in Marin County jail for burglary, and placed him on three years probation.

Christy broke into the Camera Center, 1233 Fourth Street, San Rafael, on Sept. 30 and removed two television sets. He pleaded guilty.

Parolee Held For Burglar Tools In Car

A 24-year-old San Anselmo man was booked by San Rafael police early today on suspicion of receiving stolen property and having burglar tools in his car.

William Robert Dillon of 207 The Alameda was arrested at Fourth Street and Grand Ave. and Grand Avenue after Officer Phillip D. Green stopped him for questioning.

Green said he saw Dillon's car pass several times as he was checking doors in an area where there have been several recent burglaries.

Police said a pair of license plates, registered to Ralph G. Hoffman of San Francisco, were in the back seat of the car. A large crowbar and other potential burglar tools were in the trunk, they said.

San Francisco police reported Hoffman was not aware the license plates were missing from his car until they received word from San Rafael police and called him.

Lucas Valley Shop Center Given Nod

Marin County supervisors yesterday granted Eichler Homes a use permit for a commercial center at Lucas Valley Road and County Farm Road, after minor modifications to lessen the effect on the county's nearby family rehabilitation center.

The center, scheduled to be completed next summer, will be across County Farm Road from the Eichler development.

At last week's board meeting Chief Probation Officer Walter H. Busher said the shopping center might be an attraction and spur flirting between teenagers at the center and local teen-agers.

Planner David Van Pelt said there have been minor changes in road alignment that will permit heavier screen planting as a barrier and shifting of the center driveway to the north away from the Eichler development.

Eichler has agreed to pay half of the screen planting costs up to $1,000, Van Pelt said.

Supervisors complimented Eichler homes for its offer. The board also set a 10 p.m. closing time for the proposed gasoline station opposite the center, for a six-month trial period.

Tam Asks County Aid On Student Problem

Tamalpais High School District requested the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday to take action on several fronts to alleviate problems caused by students gathering along Homestead Boulevard.

Residents of the area had protested to the board that students were creating traffic hazards, littering the area, using abusive language, and damaging property.

Robert H. Prather, school principal, in a letter to the board asked for action by the sheriff's office, department of public works, health department and mosquito abatement district.

Prather asked that the county re-establish a routine patrol by the sheriff's office along Homestead Boulevard during brunch and lunch periods, which was discontinued about two years ago. He also suggested that any student or resident cars illegally parked on Homestead be tagged.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he would like to see one law enforcement agency, either Mill Valley police or sheriff's office, have jurisdiction over the area, and he felt that some sort of city-county agreement might be reached.

The question of jurisdiction in the Tamalpais High School area has caused disruption and confusion among law enforcement agencies and makes no sense as things now stand, he said. (The area is actually in county jurisdiction but Mill Valley police assist in law enforcement there.)

County Administrator Alan Bruce said that County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney is working on a police mutual aid agreement.

Prather also requested that the department of public works clear a ditch on the bank side of Homestead to remove blockade and alleviate a mosquito problem, provide some surfacing of the road shoulder on the school side of the, boulevard clear brush from a blind corner near Mead Amphitheater, and paint yellow street lines.

He suggested that the department establish and clearly mark the no-parking areas.

He suggested that the health department notify him about mosquito, rat and litter problems, and the mosquito abatement district notify him of its recommendations.

Supervisors referred the requests to Bruce and asked him to report his recommendations next Tuesday.

The Nation's Higher Discount Rate: What It Means

By PETER S. NAGAN
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Despite all the talk of higher interest rates this week, the consumer's cost of borrowing isn't likely to be changed in months ahead. The chances are that businessman will not be paying much more.

The whole question of higher money costs stems from the increase in the so-called discount rate, which was authorized last week by the heads of the Federal Reserve System in Washington.

The federal reserve is the nation's central bank, which controls the money supply and lends to commercial banks. The discount rate is the interest charge these borrowing banks must pay. It has just been raised to four per cent from three and one-half per cent. In the past, such increases have signaled upward moves in interest rates to all classes of borrowers.

But the current increase differs from the typical move of past years. For one thing, it was not taken to dampen a business boom and curb inflation. Rather, it was prompted solely by a need to offset the impact of a similar but larger increase by the Bank of England.

The British have been buying more abroad than they have been selling, paying for the difference from their holdings of gold and foreign currencies. But these have fallen dangerously low. So Britain has boosted interest rates to attract funds from abroad. The U. S. had to follow suit or its own payments deficit would worsen.

The money managers in Washington, however, have designed this increase so that its main impact will hit rates appealing to those with money to move around — treasury bills and certificates of deposit issued by commercial banks on funds left for, say, three or six months.

Significantly, though, Washington is not simultaneously reducing the supply of funds available for lending, as it did whenever it raised the discount rate before. That is why rates charged consumers and businessmen will be so slightly changed.

Specifically, here is what financial analysts see ahead:

1. Installment-loan rates won't be affected by the new developments. The bulk of finance-company money comes from savings borrowed from insurance companies or via the bond market, rather than from banks, and so is not affected directly by the higher discount rate. Anyway, handling and service costs are a large factor — and money costs are a relatively smaller one — in the consumer-finance business.

2. Mortgage-lending rates won't be lifted by this move, either. They, too, depend mainly on the flow of savings, which is expected to remain high in 1965 while the demand for mortgage money eases.

3. Business loan rates could creep up a bit, as banks try to compensate for their higher borrowing costs. Some borrowers will find they aren't entitled to quite the low rate they got last time. Others will be asked to leave more of a balance in their accounts at all times, permitting this to be loaned out to others.

But the experts see competition limiting how far the banks can go. With no reduction in the money supply, big customers may choose to float bonds or borrow directly from insurance companies at rates lower than the banks are charging.

Smaller firms would bear the brunt of any rate increases. But even the increases they face might be small because of the still-ample supply of money, especially after Christmas, when the big holiday borrowings are repaid and credit terms are easy.

Borrowers aren't the only ones who can expect higher interest rates at banks. Savers may find that they'll be getting more, too, because the authorities also raised to four per cent the maximum that commercial banks can pay on deposits of less than a year, up from three and one-half per cent. Some banks plan to try to attract more of this kind of money.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

New Gift Shop Opens For Mill Valley's Yule Trade

Opened just in time to cater to the Christmas trade is the new Mill Valley gift shop of Sally Ann Lowry at 17 East Blithedale Avenue known as "The Imp."

She plans to carry a continuous round of new and unusual, but moderately priced, gift merchandise for the home.

The wooden imp on the store's facade was designed and carved by a local artist by the name of "Sam." His paintings and art objects are also featured in the salesroom inside. Other articles include handcrafted ashtrays, ice buckets, miniature chests, crystal, ceramics, copper, brass and wood items and decorative candles.

Miss Lowry, a Mill Valley resident for five years, was formerly with the San Francisco advertising firm of Gerth, Brown, Clark and Elkus.

THAT LADY IN BUSINESS who keeps appointments straightened out, sees that her boss gets where he is going on time, makes excuses, answers questions when he is out (and often when he is in), handles his correspondence, acts as confidant, mentor and frequently as alter ego — is about to be praised for her patience and purpose.

She — and 24 others like her — will be geusts of honor of the newly created Society for the Preservation and Protection of Executive Secretaries for cocktails and lunch at Peacock Gap Country Club two days before Christmas.

The hosts are the charter-members of the society, 25 Marin businessmen who have organized to show gratitude to their office trustees for services both within and beyond the call of duty.

Said Fred F. Enemark, executive vice president of Marin County Savings and Loan Assn., whose idea it was to start something like this: "For some time I have felt that the lovely ladies who take care of each of us do not get adequate recognition."

The society plans to make it an annual occurrence during the week before Christmas.

GEORGE B. LOVELAND of San Rafael, MJB Coffee Co. executive, received an award of merit from the San Francisco chapter of the Administrative Society during its November dinnner meeting.

TWO STAFF MEMBERS of Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn., San Anselmo, have been moved up to officer status; Mrs. Marion E. Jinks and Albert F. Baenziger, who have been elected assistant secretaries.

Baenziger came to the association 18 months ago after retiring from the Army, and lives in Terra Linda with his wife and three of their four children. He acts as loan services officer.

Mrs. Jinks joined Ross Valley upon her return 18 months ago following several years residence in the Sierra where she had an interest in a ski shop and resort. She lives in San Anselmo with her husband, Pat, and their two younger children. Her responsibilities encompass customer relations and advertising.

MOTORCRAFT. Sales of foreign cars are up again (ask any Marin imported car dealer). Gains over last year are running double those of U.S.-made cars. It's a result of Detroit abandoning the economy compact segment of the American market. . . . For the past year, B. F. Goodrich Co. has increased its newpaper advertising for replacement tires far and away ahead of previous years — with gratifying results. This "impact program" (in which the I-J has participated) is scheduled to be carried on into 1965.

Market Closes Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed higher today for the first time in seven sessions.

The recovery move slowed somewhat near the close of trading.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.1 million shares, compared with 4.92 million Tuesday.

But it was only a moderate rally after six straight days of losses.

Even so, it heartened investors whose worry about higher interest rates and international affairs had sent the market skidding. Tuesday's decline was one of the biggest in a year.

The market started rising in heavy trading at the opening. It gained strength steadily as the session wore on.

Sparry Rand, which opened on a big block of 69,000 shares, appeared likely to be the day's most active stock. Hertz lost nearly a point on a block of 19,700 shares and RCA was up about half a point on 10,000.

Sears, Roebuck, which has been the target of profit taking, came back with a better than 3-point gain.

Active and up about a point were American Broadcasting—Paramount, Cerro, Chicago and North Western, Great Atlantic and Pacific, Joy Manufacturing, Owens-Illinois Glass and Texas Gulf Sulphur.

Prices advanced in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Treasury bonds improved and corporates were mixed.

Dividend Declared By Kaiser Cement

OAKLAND — The board of directors of Kaiser Cement and Gypsum Corp., meeting yesterday at Oakland, declared regular quarterly dividends on the company's common and convertible preferred stocks.

The common dividend of 20 cents per share maintains the rate increase approved by the board at its August meeting. The preferred dividend is 62 and one-half cents per share. Both dividends are payable Jan. 31 to share holders of record Jan. 15.

Witter To Head Investment Assn.

Wendell W. Witter, partner in Dean Witter and Co., San Francisco investment firm, was elected president of the Investment Bankers Assn. of America today at the association's annual convention in Hollywood, Fla.

He succeeds David J. Harris of Chicago.

Witter is the fourth Californian and the second member of his firm to head the IBA. Except for five years in the Army Air Force, he has devoted his entire career to the investment banking business.

A native of Berkeley, he joined Dean Witter and Co. as a bond salesman in 1933, became a partner in 1950 and a member of its executive committee in 1960.

Apparent High Bond Bidder Announced

SAN FRANCISCO —An underwriting syndicate jointly managed by Bank of America and Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago, which included First Wisconsin National Bank of Milwaukee, is apparent high bildder on the 9.5-million-dollar bond issue of the Albuquerque Metropolitan Arroyo Flood Control Authority in New Mexico.

The group paid a premium of $1 for a combination of 4¼, 3.30, 2.90 and 3 and 3.10 per cent bonds. The dollar bid was 100. Net interest cost to the authority was 3.1086 per cent. Subject to award the bonds were reoffered to investors to yield from 2.35 to 3.15 per cent, according to maturity Jan. 1, 1966-78.

G.E. Developing Plastic Invention

NEW YORK—A basically new chemical technique for synthesizing plastics was described here today by General Electric officials as "the most exciting discovery in polymer chemistry since nylon."

"Polymerization by oxidative coupling," in which oxygen from ordinary air plays a key role in making plastic materials, is the invention of Dr. Allan S. Hay of the General Electric Research Laboratory, Schenectady, N.Y.

General Electric has backed its faith in the 35-year-old scientist's discovery with a research and development investment of more than 7 million dollars.

The discovery of an extremely selective and rapid oxidation process for producing high polymers was announced here at a new conference yesterday.

Oxidative coupling was described as a major step toward the goal of producing whole new families of potentially inexpensive plastics with high strength, easy fabricability and other important properties.

Hay's polymerization technique provides one plastic, the first to be offered commercially, that is a general-purpose molding compound called PPO.

PPO can be injection molded in conventional equipment, machined like brass and extruded into rods, slabs, sheets and pipe.

Because of the new material's resistance to water and aqueous solutions, plus its strength and temperature resistance, it was predicted that PPO may eventually replace copper for hot water and steam pipes in homes and factories.

Other applications include insulation for extra high voltage transmission lines, battery cases, appliance parts and other jobs requiring materials with excellent mechanical properties and environmental resistance over a wide range of temperatures.

Oil Interest Is Acquired

LOS ANGELES — Signal Oil and Gas Co. has acquired a 20 per cent interest in oil and gas exploration permits covering approximately eight million acres in the Republic of Tunisia and off its east Mediterrancan coast.

The permits include the islands of Kerkennah and Djerba. An exploratory well currently is being drilled 40 miles northwest of the seaport of Sfax.

Signal's interest was acquired through the purchase of Western Tunisia Co., a subsidiary of Western Natural Gas Co. of Houston, Tex.

National Airline Passengers Up

LOS ANGELES—National Airlines registered an increase of 24.9 million revenue passenger miles in November this year over the month a year ago.

Traffic density was greater with an operating load factor of 52 per cent as compared to 49 per cent for November, 1963.

Traffic gains were general throughout National's system and the number of passengers boarded increased by 34,668 to 221,674.

It's Chico Bargain Fare time again on the Santa Fe—through April 30, 1965.

For example, a regular round-trip ticket costing $100 will be sold at the off-season bargain fare of $80. Round trips costing $75 now will be only $60, and similar reductions will apply for round-trip tickets from all stations except for local trips within the State of California.

No matter where you travel on Santa Fe trains, round-trip bargain fares will save you approximately 20%. Tickets on sale every day with a return limit of 30 days. Yes, bargain fares apply for both round-trip coach and first-class tickets.

Now you can leave the car at home and save money traveling by Santa Fe.

No Decision Is Reached On Novato Commissioners

The Novato City Council met in closed session for two hours last night but failed to name anyone to the four openings on the city's two commissions.

It was the council's second closed session to discuss replacements for Alfred Bellucci and Dr. Merton Shelton on the planning commission and Alton Lerch and Mrs. Mary Ellen Lefter on the parks and recreation advisory commission. Their terms expire at the end of the month.

Although the council had scheduled just the closed meeting, it also went through an eight-item agenda, prepared yesterday by City Administrator J. Julien Baget, in open meeting.

Two items concerned methods of getting names of citizens willing to serve on commissions and study groups. The council approved an application form and a letter to be sent to various service organizations asking for names of citizens willing to serve the city.

Councilmen indicated they wanted to wait to get names of these citizen volunteers before filling the four positions, Baget said today.

The Novato City Council Also:

1. Denied a claim by Carl G. Boe of 1713 Novato Boulevard for $50 damage done to his property when a tree limb fell across the power line.

2. Denied that the city opposed the wishes of the Marin Golf and Country Club Estates Homeowners Assn. in its position on "extended service" to Novato by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., as charged by Anthony J. Wiechers, president of the homeowners. At a California Public Utilities Commission hearing on the PT&T application, the city asked that it include Western California Telephone Co., which serves about half of Novato. Wiechers contended this amounted to opposition to the PT&T request, which was favored by the homeowners.

3. Postponed the Dec. 22 meeting to Dec. 29.

Vehicles Reversed In Crash Report

Carlo John Wilcox, 16, of 715 Olive Avenue, Novato, was driving a 1953 model pickup truck which backed into a 1961 model station wagon owned by William B. Lawrence of Stinson Beach, at 821 Sweetzer Avenue, Novato, Sunday afternoon.

The Independent-Journal mistakenly reported that he was driving the car that backed into a pickup truck. Only the vehicles were reversed in the article. Young Wilcox was cited for unsafe backing by Novato police.

No Change In Crash Victims

No change was reported in the condition of two boys hurt in the car crash which killed their father Saturday.

Timothy Barry, 6, was still in serious condition at San Francisco's Letterman General Hospital with a skull fracture. Daniel Barry, 11, remained in satisfactory condition with a broken right leg and facial scrapes.

The accident killed their father, John Joseph Barry, 32, of 540 Bolling Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base.

The largest hot dog in the world was produced by the German Butchers Guild in the late 1600s. It was more than a half mile in length and weighed 885 pounds.

Lagunitas School Decision Is Put Off

Trustees of Lagunitas School District last night again delayed decision on a second school site in the Woodacre area.

Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff said the board postponed action until its meeting Dec. 15. About 25 persons attended last night's session, expecting a decision on the much-debated site.

A petition signed by 300 was presented by Donald Pederson of Woodacre, opposing use of land adjacent to and including a portion of the Woodacre Improvement Club.

The petition stated that residents in the area would be displaced and there are other open and undeveloped sites available. Pederson is the owner of one of the four homes that would be removed if the Woodacre Club site were developed.

McCunniff said trustees came to last night's meeting with the evident intention of making a decision, but after the petition was presented, some trustees asked for more time.

Mrs. Frank Short of Woodacre last night suggested another site on Oak Grove, south of the Woodacre Club, but trustees declared it appeared to be too hilly.

Trustees learned that there were no bidders on a "package" insurance program for the district that would include fire and liability coverage. McCunniff said agents told him they did not have enough time to prepare bids. He expects some late bids to be offered. The board may call a special meeting to consider them.

Trustees also received no application for a bus driver job. The former driver resigned to take a full-time job and a substitute is filling in until a new driver can be found.

Sanitary Directors Discuss Equipment

Directors of the Richardson Bay Sanitary District last night discussed the estimated $3,000 cost of purchasing equipment needed to comply with requirements of the Region Water Pollution Control Board.

Directors agreed to check again with the board on the requirements for samplying of sewage outflow. They set Jan. 19, 1965, as the date for hearing on annexation of Hillcrest subdivision to the district.

Some bugs, among them the chinch bug, produce an antifreeze chemical that keeps their internal organs from turning to ice in winter.

Probation Set In Phony Theft

Richard A. Carpenter, 19, of 260 Canal Street, San Rafael, yesterday was given a 60-day sentence in Marin Municipal Court and placed on one year's probation for filing a false crime report.

The youth told San Rafael police Nov. 2 that more than $1,000 worth of household items were stolen from his apartment and the storage room of the building where he lived.

Officers said investigation revealed no such items existed.

Money Speaks, Colleges Scream In Pro Grid $$$ War

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Money talks — and makes college coaches scream.

It spoke to Kansas halfback Gale Sayers and Tennessee guard Steve DeLong, giving the Chicago Bears of the National Football League a split yesterday with the rival American League as the multi-million dollar pro football war continued.

Sayers and DeLong — both picked on the first round of the NFL draft by the Bears — went different ways. Chicago won the battle for Sayers against the Kansas City Chiefs but lost DeLong to the AFL's San Diego Chargers in the first major breakthrough for the younger league.

Meanwhile, both leagues came under fire from college coaches for signing futures — players who still have a year of college eligibility remaining but whose college class has graduated and thus are eligible to be drafted.

The two cases involved Los Angeles State tackle Walt Johnson, signed by the NFL's Cleveland Browns, and Arizona State halfback Larry Todd, signed by the Oakland Raiders of the AFL. Coaches from each team said they were considering official protests.

COULDN'T REFUSE

"They don't have any business signing a boy when he has a year to play," said Los Angeles State Coach Homer Beatty. "They waved so much money in the boy's face he couldn't turn it down. They have no regard for the boy or his coach."

Browns president Art Modell said "It's ridiculous" to the charge of waving money at Johnson and said Cleveland "found out he had no intention of going back to school. The Browns never have and never will take people out of school to play football."

Todd's coach, Frank Kush, charged the Raiders talked to the player throughout the season and implied this was unethical since the coaching staff was not contacted.

"The signing was very legitimate," said assistant AFL Commissioner Milt Woodward. "His class graduates in June, and he'd given every indication he'd play professional football."

The American League, meanwhile, signed its first No. 1 pick in direct competition with the NFL when DeLong agreed to a San Diego contract. DeLong said he was "very honored to be considered by both clubs. The offers were abut the same but I decided to go with San Diego."

Sayers was the center of an intense battle with the Chiefs looking for a hot local attraction and the Bears trying to get a breakaway runner of Willie Galimore's caliber. Galimore was killed in an auto accident before the season started.

PREFERS CHICAGO

Kansas City's chief scout, Don Klosterman, quoted Sayers as saying he "preferred to play in Chicago rather than Kansas City and there's nothing you can do about it."

The split kept the NFL out front of the AFL in signing first-round draft choices. NFL clubs have signed five No. 1 selections and lost only DeLong. The AFL, meanwhile, has signed three of its top picks and also lost three to the National League.

Each league also signed one other high selection yesterday, Rice linebacker Malcolm Walker signing with Dallas and Boston signing Boston College end Jim Whalen.

Walker was the Cowboys No. 2 pick and also a second round selection of Houston in the AFL. Whalen was No. 3 on the Patriots list and a fourth round pick by Minnesota.

Other signings yesterday:

Dallas —Sonny Utz, Virginia Tech halfback; Russell Wayt, Rice linebacker; Jethro Pugh, Elizabeth Cith, N.C. tackle.

St. Louis — John Meyer, Notre Dame tackle.

Pittsburgh — Bob Nichols, Stanford guard; Bill Quigley, Villanova linebacker; Gary Arnold, Emory and Henry back.

Minnesota — Dave Osborn, North Dakota back.

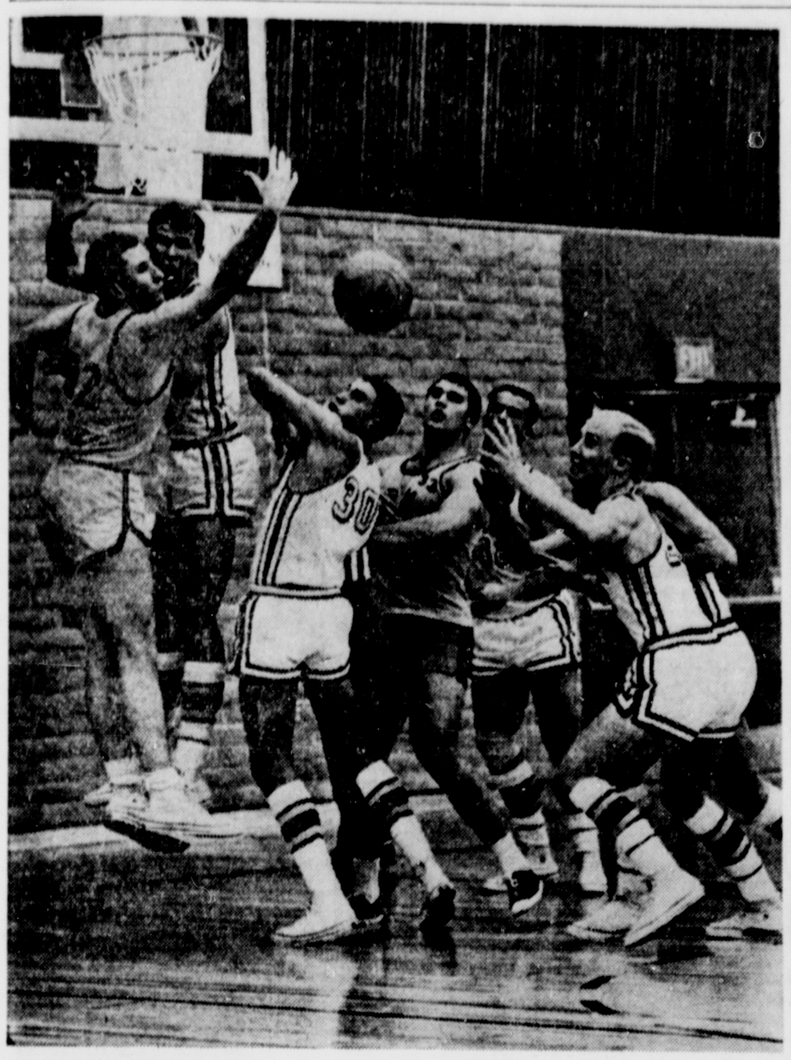
AFL

Denver — John Hohman, Wisconsin guard.



LOOSE BALL—It was a traffic jam under the basket during this second half action last night in the game between College of Marin and the alumni. Trying for the ball are alums Rich Abbott (52) and Randy Petrini (33) and Tars Fred Arnold (under basket), Larry Wolfe (30), Rod Monti (42), and Jay Johnson right).

PRESS BOX VIEWS

BY JACK HANLEY

Phils Didn't Help Mound Staff; Giants Happy To See Bennett Go

Jack Hanley

As might be expected the Phillies are wheeling and dealing in baseball's winter trading mart. It was inevitable. When a team collapses in a pennant stretch drive as the Phillies did last September, something must be done. Either the manager is fired or players are traded.

John Quinn didn't fire his field boss, Gene Mauch. The Philly general manager has confidence in Mauch. He handpicked him for the job. Furthermore, it would have been incongruous to fire Mauch in view of the fact that one of the press associations voted him National League manager of the year.

So the other alternative was certain to happen. Southpaw Dennis Bennett was traded to the Red Sox for Dick Stuart. Then, Danny Cater was sent to the White Sox for Ray Herbert. And the Phillies let it be known that was just the beginning of their intended trading.

Pitching primarily was the problem of the Phillies when they dropped six straight between Sept. 20-26 and let a 6½ game lead evaporate. Of their final 12 games, they won only two. Bennett wasn't the only Philly pitcher responsible for the skid.

HOWEVER, something had to be done although Quinn and Mauch didn't deal Bennett just for the sake of putting a new face in the Philly lineup. Obviously, Quinn and Mauch felt that Philadelphia's need for a righthand power bat to supplement rookie Richie Allen's was paramount to any pitching problem. Stuart has a power bat. Thus, Bennett for Stuart.

HAVING MADE the Bennett-Stuart deal, it became mandatory for the Phillies to plug the hole left in their pitching staff by Bennett's departure. So Herbert was obtained from the White Sox. Herbert was a 20-game winner a few season ago but now is 35 and finished 6-7 last season, exactly half of Bennett's 12-14 record.

It's difficult to see where the Phillies helped their pitching staff in trading Bennett and acquiring Herbert. Bennett, at 25, still has his major league career ahead of him. Herbert's is ending.

BENNETT MAY not have been a .500 pitcher against other clubs last season but against the Giants he was tough as they come. He beat Juan Marichal and the Giants twice, 2-1 and 1-0. His only loss to them was in the first Giant-Philly meeting of the year when Jack Sanford shutout the Phillies, 3-0.

The Giants can't be unhappy over Bennett's departure to the American League.

Mrs. Vincent Wins Tourney

Mariners Blitz Alumni In Opener

College of Marin cagers, off to a high scoring start in the 1964-65 basketball season, hope to make it two in a row tonight at the expense of San Mateo Junior College.

The Tars dumped a College of Marin alumni aggregation last night 97-78 in the first game played in the new Kentfield gym. Tonight the Mariners travel to San Mateo Junior College's gym for an 8 o'clock scrap. San Mateo, a school with an enrollment of more than 5,000, had a very impressive 24-5 record last year.

Marin's varsity led the alums throughout the game last night, but had only a one-point lead shortly after the start of the second half. The Tars led 45-39 at halftime.

Guards Jay Johnson and Brad Busch led the Tars' scoring attack with 22 and 21 points, respectively. Each meshed nine field goals, the rest of their points coming on free throws. All 15 Tar cagers who were suited up played with 11 of them hitting the scoring column.

Joe McGrath, former Tar all-conference guard who played at San Jose State, topped the alumni scoring with 17 points. Ron O'Connell, an all-conference guard off last year's Marin team, was next with 14 points.

Tar coach Cal Riemcke was very pleased with his team's showing in the season opener. "Our fast break was working good and our front line did a good job rebounding," said Riemcke. Most of the rebounds were snared by centers Jim Halm and Fred Arnold and forwards Rod Monti and Pete Coy.

Riemcke also praised the play of Busch. "He set up some fine plays with his passing in the first half and hit well from outside in the second half," said the coach.

Individual scoring:

Marin: Pete Coy, 1-1-3; Rod Monti, 2-5-9; Bill Brody, 5-1-11; Larry Wolfe, 4-0-8; Jim Halm, 2-3-7; Fred Arnold, 3-2-8; Bob King, 1-1-3; Jay Johnson, 9-4-22; Grant Stephenson, 0-3-3; Brad Busch, 9-3-21; Paul Gockel, 1-0-2.

Alumni—Charlie Bullock, 3-2-8; Ron O'Connell, 6-2-14; Joe McGrath, 6-5-17; Ron Blum, 5-1-11; Steve Bryant, 5-1-11; Pete Bardea, 0-1-1; Randy Petrini, 1-3-5; Al Murray, 1-1-3; Don Johnson, 4-0-8.

BASEBALL MEETING

Giants, Yankees Deny Big Trade

By CHARLES MAHER

HOUSTON (AP) — Baseball's ranking intellects have resolved the momentous question of what constitutes a legal catcher's mitt. While nothing is likely to overshadow the celebration that will surely follow such an event, there is still some curiosity about where Frank Howard and Bo Belinsky, among others, will be playing next season.

Despite expressions of doubt by some club executives, these rumbles persist at the winter baseball meetings:

— Howard, the 6-foot-7 outfielder of the Los Angeles Dodgers, will be traded to Houston for third baseman Bob Aspromonte and pitcher Ken Johnson, or to Milwaukee for third baseman Ed Mathews, or to Kansas City for outfielder Rocky Colavito.

— Belinsky, the calamity-prone left-hander of the Los Angeles Angels, will be traded for one or more Philadelphia Phillies.

There was also a rumor yesterday that San Francisco would trade pitchers Bob Shaw and Billy O'Dell to the New York Yankees for catcher-outfielder John Blanchard. But that one was vigorously denied by both clubs.

About the catcher's mitt:

The playing rules committee outlawed the Big Berthas used to catch some knuckleball pitchers. The committee decided the mitt may be no more than 38 inches in circumference.

A conventional mitt is 33 to 34 inches. The Big Berthas, describd by committee chairman Charles Segar as "burlesque glovs," are up to 45 inches.

The Belinsky-Philadelphia deal has been hanging several days. First baseman John Herrnstein and outfielder Tony Gonzalez are among the Phils rumored to have been offered or asked. But the guess is that the Angels don't think Herrnstein is enough and the Phils think Gonzalez is too much.

COLTS CHANGE NICKNAME TO THE 'ASTROS'

HOUSTON (AP) — There is no longer such a team as the Houston Colt .45s.

Now they're the Houston Astros.

Club President Roy Hofheinz announced the name change last night.

"We think it is in keeping with the situation in which we are the space capital of the world," he said. "The name was taken from the stars and indicates we are on the ascendency."

Griffith Batters Briton, Raps Ref

By GRANVLLE WATTS

LONDON (AP) — Welterweight champion Emile Griffith heads for New York today with another easy victory over a Briton, another fat purse and a minor gipe over officiating.

The 26-year-old New Yorker floored Dave Charnley three times in stopping the British lightweight champion in 1:56 of the ninth round of a non-title 10-rounder at Wembley's indoor stadium.

For his efforts — which were booed at times by the crowd of about 8,000 — Griffith collected about $20,000. Only last Sept. 22 he earned $56,000 in the same arena for soundly drubbing Welshman Brian Curvis in a 15-round title defense.

The husky, hard-hitting world champion dropped the left-handed Briton twice in the third round — for a count of eight and a no- count at the bell — and for nine with a holting left hook to the jaw in the ninth round.

When Charnley, bleeding from cuts under both eyes, staggered to his feet after the third knockdown, referee Frank Wilson ended the slaughter.

Griffith had won seven of the eight completed rounds on The Associated Press' scorecard.

Griffith was warned several times for hitting low and butting with his head. Charnley also was warned. The crowd booed every time Griffith was warned.

"I'm going to complain to the British Boxing Board of Control," said Gil Clancy, Giffith's co-manager. "I was so worried that Emile might get disqualified that I told him not to hit Charnley lower than his chin."

"I'm hurt about the booing," said Griffith. "I wanted to please the fans. I got scared to throw punches because everything I did seemed to be wrong in the eyes of the referee. I couldn't see how I could be butting when my head was up. He hit me low but I didn't complain."

'Toy Bulldog' Mickey Walker Is Winner Of Coveted Ring Award

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Walker, one of the swashbuckling sports idols of the Golden Twenties, and light heavyweight champion Willie Pastrano were selected today to receive two of boxing's most prized awards.

Walker, the 63-year-old former welterweight and middleweight champion who feared no one and took on heavyweights, was chosen for the James J. Walker award for "long and meritorious service to boxing." He is a member of Boxing's Hall of Fame.

Pastrano, the 29-year-old king of the 175-pound division, was picked for the Edward J. Neil award as the Boxing Writers' Association's Fighter of the Year.

The BWA's two major awards will be presented at the organization's 39th annual dinner at the Waldorf Astoria in New York, Sunday, Jan. 17.

A new presentation, the Good Guy award, will go to Billy Graham, the former welterweight contender from New York, for his services to boxing, youth and veteran groups, and for his cooperation with the press.

Walker, a native of Elizabeth, N.J., now doubles as an artist known for his "American primitives" and as a representative for a distillery.

He bears hardly any scars of the ring although he won fame for his stirring slugfests in a memorable 19-year career stretching from 1919 to 1935.

Five Marin Cage Quints Triumph

Drake, Tam Only Losers

Marin Athletic League high schools came out of yesterday's prep basketball action with five practice game victories and two losses as the 1964-65 cage season started rolling in high gear.

It was a good day's showing for the Marin teams, with San Rafael, Marin Catholic, Novato, Terra Linda and Redwood winning their games and Drake and Tam losing their contests.

San Rafael

San Rafael's Bulldogs nipped Armijo 53-51 on the S.R. courts, with Tom Unterman, a forward, pacing the winning attack with 16 points and 12 rebounds. Bob Rossi, with 13 rebounds, led the Bulldogs on the boards as San Rafael outrebounded Armijo 52-19.

The Bulldogs were outscored in the final quarter 20-13 but hung on to gain the triumph which evened their record at 1-1.

Roger Widmer with 7 points paced the San Rafael Class B team in its 31-25 win over the Armijo Bees.

Marin Catholic

Marin Catholic Wildcats found their home court to their liking and whipped Petaluma 59-48. Marin was led by Bill Shine with 22 point. Brad McDonald with 16 and Dave Morrell with 10. Topping the Petaluma scoring were grid stars Nino Pedrini with 15 points and Nat Popoleuski with 12.

In a Class B game, the Wildkittens topped the Petalumans 48-42 behind the 14 points of Paul Vickers.

Novato Hornets

The Novato Hornets hosted Napa and came out with a 50-46 victory. Featuring a balanced attack, the Hornets had four cagers in double figures. Ev Fritz had 13, Ron Rowell had 12, Tom Corder had 11 and John Dolinsek had 10 to account for all but four of Novato's points. It was the season opener for Novato.

Terra Linda

Terra Linda's Trojans opened their season with a 64-47 bombing of Oceana High of Pacifica. The T.L. quint had a 27-16 halftime lead in the game played on the Trojans' court, and iced the game with a 22-point spurt in the final quarter.

Keith Shields with 15 points and Don Knotts with 14 paced the winners' attack. Junior Fred Daniele scored 8 points and played an outstanding game on defense.

Terra Linda's Class B team, led by Bill Muth with 9 points and Steve Congdon with 8, won its game 29-19.

Redwood Giants

Redwood moved its record to 2-0 with a 64-55 win over Mt. Diablo in Concord. The Giants, leading throughout the game, were paced by Tom Bly with 17 points, Russ Smith with 15 and Kevin Wilson with 13. Chuck Meyers, with 11 rebounds for Redwood, led in that category.

Drake Pirates

Drake High lost to Balboa High in San Francisco, 41-39. The Pirates had a first quarter lead of 19-15, but the Balboa team caught up before the half was over and never game up the lead after that.

Rick Henika with 22 points and Larry Stein with 10 were the big shooters for the Pirates who were playing their first game of the season. The Drake "B" team also lost to the Balboa lightweights, 47-21.

Tam Indians

Tam's record slipped to 0-2 after a 53-36 loss to Analy High in Sebastopol. The home town boys led throughout the game. High man for Tam was James Cook with 8 points.

Tamalpais' Class B cagers triumphed, however, as Steve Johnson's 17 points led the Little Injuns to a 41-33 decision over Analy's Bees.

COAST COLLEGE ROUNDUP

Mighty USF Cagers Romp

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The mighty basketball team from the University of San Francisco was off and running toward possible national honors today, while the Seattle Chieftan cage squad tripped and fell at the starting blocks.

USF opened its season at Oregon State last night and emerged from the Corvallis gym with a sound 66-58 triumph. Onetime prep great Russ Gumina, now in his junior year, popped in 21 for the Dons while the peerless Don front line of Ervin Mueller, Joe Ellis and Ollie Johnson settled for 11, 9, and 16.

Junior guard Rick Whelan kept the Beavers in the ball game with his outside shooting and wound up with 16 points. It was a disappointing coaching debut for Paul Valenti, Beaver head coach who was as assistant to the retired Slats Gill for 17 years. But Valenti and the Beaver fans know that losing to this year's Dons' squad is no disgrace.

Seattle hosted Arizona and wound up on the short end of a 76-71 count as the Wildcats hit four free throws in the last 27 seconds. It was a wild one that saw the referees tootle three technical fouls and a fight break out with eight minutes to go. A total of 54 fouls were called in the contest.

Tom Workman of the Chiefs led scorers with 23 points, while all five Arizona starters hit in double figures as the Wildcats meshed 48 per cent of their shots.

USF, Seattle, and UCLA figure to dominate the coast cage scene this year. USF looked like money in the bank last night, Seattle stumbled, and UCLA shoots for its 31st straight win when it opens its season Friday night in Illinois.

In other Western action last night, Stanford nipped Santa Clara, 69-60; Idaho bopped Washington State, 76-54; Loyola toppled Occidental, 82-65; and California, Washington and San Jose State downed alumni squads.

Southpaw Kent Hinckley led Stanford past Santa Clara with an 18-point effort. Clayton Raaka added 16 and soph Mike Gervasoni led the Broncs with 13.

Washington downed its alumni 84-71, F. T. Saffold's 26 points gave San Jose State a 77-64 win over the alumni, and Dan Wolters had 26 as the California Bears took a 76-65 win over a strong alumni squad.

Fresno State, shooting for a fourth straight CCAA title this year, rolled over Nevada, 99-59 as Lonnie Hughey had 29 points and 18 rebounds.

University of Pacific had to go all out to down Hayward State 59-52, and the Far West Conference got a shot in the arm when San Francisco State won at St. Mary's of the West Coast Athletic Conference, 89-84. Denny Lewis and Joe Galbo scored 26 and 22 as the Gators hit 56 per cent of their shots.

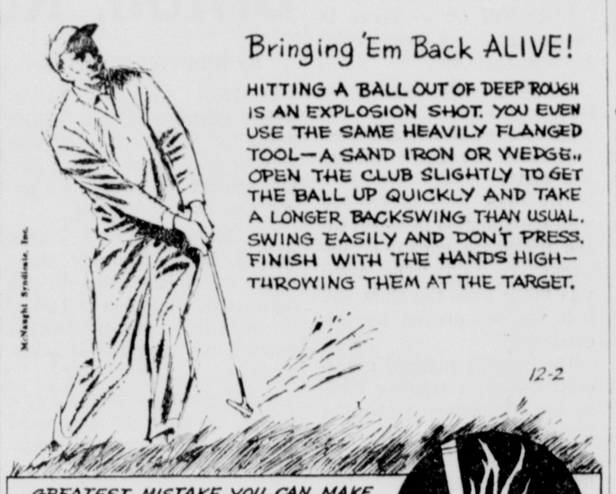
GOLF'S WORLD SERIES CHAMPION



Bringing 'Em Back ALIVE!

HITTING A BALL OUT OF DEEP ROUGH IS AN EXPLOSION SHOT. YOU EVEN USE THE SAME HEAVILY FLANGED TOOL—A SAND IRON OR WEDGE. OPEN THE CLUB SLIGHTLY TO GET THE BALL UP QUICKLY AND TAKE A LONGER BACKSWING THAN USUAL. SWING EASILY AND DON'T PRESS. FINISH WITH THE HANDS HIGH—THROWING THEM AT THE TARGET.

GREATEST MISTAKE YOU CAN MAKE IS TRYING TO HIT THE BALL CLEANLY. HIT BEHIND IT AS YOU WOULD AN EXPLOSION SHOT. THE GRASS TRAPPED BETWEEN THE BLADE AND THE BALL ACTS AS A CUSHION, GETTING THE BALL UP IN THE AIR WITH LITTLE OR NO BACKSPIN.

Warriors Win In Double Overtime

SAN JOSE (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors and the Baltimore Bullets should be forgiven if they move a little slowly tonight in their National Basketball Assn. clash at San Jose Civic Auditorium.

They had a long, grueling evening in San Francisco last night before the Warriors won 137-136 in double overtime.

Three field goals by Guy Rodgers tied the score at the end of regulation play and the first overtime period and accounted for the winning margin in the final three seconds.

Rodgers, who finished with 24 points, scored a layup at the end of regulation play, which made it 120 - 120. He came through with the same shot at the end of the first overtime and tied the score at 127-127.

The Warriors' Wilt Chamberlain led scorers with 56 points. Don Ohl put in 42 for the Bullets, 19 of them coming in the second period. He hit 19 field goals from 20 feet or more.

Bullet Coach Buddy Jeannette showed his displeasure at the outcome, said officials, by hurling the ball at Referees Joe Gushue and Don Murphy. They said they would protest to the NBA commissioner.

BOXING

back in the Golden Twenties, Walker held the welterweight title from Nov. 1, 1922, to May 20, 1926, and the middleweight crown from Dec. 3, 1926 to June 19, 1931.

The lion-hearted fighter spotted heavyweight contender Jack Sharkey 30 pounds and fought him to a 10-round draw on July 22, 1931. A year later Sarkey won the heavyweight championship by whipping Max Schmeling.

The Ring Record book credits Walker with 148 fights, including 93 victories, 18 defeats and four draws. He also had 32 no decision bouts and one called no contest. He scored 58 knockouts.

Walker was retired from the ring when the BWA inaugurated its Neil Award in 1938. The trophy is named for the former Associated Press sports writer who was killed while reporting the Spanish Civil War.

Top-Ranked Michigan '5' Rallies To Win Opener

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The University of Michigan Wolverines, ranked No. 1 in The Associated Press pre-season poll, opened the college basketball season impressively last night with a 92-70 romp against Ball State.

The fourth-ranked Davidson Wildcats, the fifth-ranked Duke Blue Devils and the ninth-ranked San Francisco Dons, the only other teams in the Top Ten to see action, similarly got off on the right foot.

Davidson came from behind to defeat Wake Forest 95-88, Duke whipped Virginia Tech 98-63 and San Francisco downed Oregon State 66-58.

Cazzie Russell with 33 points led the Michigan attack that crushed Ball State. Big 6-foot-8 Fred Hetzel tossed in 28 points as Davidson wiped out an early 10-point Wake Forest lead to down the Deacons.

A Bleak Future For S.F. Bay If Developers Have Their Way

Land developing entrepeneurs had been nibbling away at the bay for years, filling it with abominations and dirt. Accomplishing it with sly, one-wheelbarrow-at-a-time finesse.

True, some organizations and citizens were observant, aware and protesting. But who listens to a group of duck hunters, boaters and poets? So, without arousing suspicion, The Developers, Inc., moved to Marin. A new, vigorous, Croesus-padded corporation, its lickety-tootin' earth-moving equipment made a bee-line for the mud flats.

Hence, the bay was filled in, practically overnight. All tamped and neatly leveled. Ready for the surveyors.

In fact, a certain Marinite, stirring his porridge and glancing out his window, remarked to his wife, "Martha . . . why I do believe our bay has been completely filled in. Now don't you think we should have received some kind of notice . . . ?"

"SO, I'LL use your skiff for a patio planter," she said with easy philosophy.

The Developers, Inc., had — with utmost adherence to legal procedure — petitioned for permission to fill in San Francisco Bay. It retained an excellent lawyer. The counties and overlapping state and national interests placed their combined faith in MX-28, a robot computer, until this moment, splendidly competent.

In the presence of MX-28, the corporation's lawyer recited all of his client's bright and acceptable credentials—which he felt were impressive. Even excessively so.

THE ROBOT clicked, buzzed and intoned, "Permission denied."

"Well," said the lawyer, briskly nonchalant, "okay. But I'm sure you know my client owns the bottom of the bay. Now, there's water on it, and we don't want water on it. Be assured we shall have it removed. Quite soon." He snapped his briefcase shut.

"What then happens to the present inflow of Delta water?" queried MX-28.

"Right now Los Angeles is holding a tentative option on it. They'd adore it. Every single drop," explained the lawyer, examining his left thumbnail.

THE ROBOT'S metal skin turned a dull red. Lights winked and blinked. "That would leave a big wet hole," it rumbled. "It would take years to dry out. Such unsightliness and hazard cannot be permitted."

The lawyer managed a finely drawn ethereal expression as he looked MX-28 right in its 50-watt eye. "Oh, we intend to fill the hole. At a great expense, of course, but it's our responsibility and you may rest assured we'll do it." Fiddling then with legal papers, he refused to meet the robot's sardonic stare.

"Fill the bay with what, pray tell?" it asked. "Mt. Tamalpais?"

The lawyer allowed his strong upper lip to pucker thoughtfully. "M-mmm . . . Yes! Yes, MX-28, your suggestion is sensational. That's it! We'll just use Mt. Tamalpais for fill. We own that, too, you know."

THE ROBOT passed a shaky hand over its eyes, and the very best sound it could come up with was a small bleat.

Therefore, Mt. Tamalpais was carted away. All of it. Even a few adjoining hummocks. The boating business and all related marine supply, sales and services fought the decision. Wildlife organizations appealed the case at every government level. Bird watchers said their piece. The port authorities came out of hibernation—roaring. Like Humpty-Dumpty, though, Mt. Tamalpais was a goner.

BY JUNE of 2065 the former site of San Francisco Bay held sky-pointed, strangely dimensional dwellings. Eschewing euphemism, it was called Cozy Cubicle Acres. Golden Gate Bridge—now a solid sea wall—leased its deck to several cocktail lounges, and catered to the cult of fog-bathing—a new fad.

Richmond-San Rafael Bridge had been sold to a carnival outfit that used it for a roller coaster thrill-attraction. San Rafael Canal's Bird Cage was a state monument — painted bronze; Angel Island a shopping center, Dumbarton Bridge a boardwalk.

Photographs of the bay were in museums. Some people still looked, sad for the lost beauty. Those who were exceedingly old, looked with remembrance. Children, though, were most touched by proud white sails; and that Christmas season Santa got this letter:

"Dere Santa: Please, do you hav eny boats left? Grandpa sed you mite still hav one in your attic. I wud like it most of all. Danny."

Schollander Voted World's Greatest

STUTTGART, Germany (AP) — Don Schollander of Lake Oswego, Ore., winner of four gold medals in swimming for the United States at the Tokyo Olympics, was voted the world's best athlete of 1964 Tuesday in a poll of 28 sportswriters from five continents.

The poll was conducted by the International Sports Correspondence, a German sports news service. Each writer lived in a different country.

Schollander won the 100 and 200-meter free style races and also helped win the 400 and 800-meter free style relay races. In the voting he received 226 points.

Peter Snell of New Zealand, who took the 800 and 1,500-meter runs at Tokyo was second with 221 points. Abebe Bikila of Ethiopia, winner of the marathon both at Rome and Tokyo, was third with 219 points.

Other U.S. athletes to gain ranking were:

Bob Hayes of Florida A&M, 100-meter dash winner, fourth with 139; Al Oerter of West Babylon, N.Y., who took the discus gold medal for the third time, ninth with 33, and Dallas Long of Los Angeles, shot put champion, 14th with 21.

49ers Ink Their 13th Draft Pick

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —The San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League announced yesterday they have signed linebacker Greg Schumacher of Illinois.

He was the 13th draft choice and the first man on the 49er list to be signed.

Schumacher stands 6-foot 3 and weighs 230.

CANADA CUP GOLF

Palmer, Nicklaus Teammates, Rivals

By WILL GRIMSLEY

KAANAPALI, MAUI, Hawaii (AP)—Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus are partners in the Canada Cup international golf matches, starting here tomorrow, but they'll be watching each other like a pair of jealous jungle cats.

It's an unusual situation. They are teamed against 33 other hand-picked twosomes from throughout the world, but each is on his own in the fight for the individual international trophy.

It's another plum — the last of the long and hard-fought year — to be plucked in a two-man battle for world golf honors.

"Jack and I are teammates and the main thing we are interested in is winning the Canada Cup for the United States," said the muscled, 34-year-old Palmer, who checked in yesterday.

"The individual trophy? Sure, I'd like to win it. Anybody would. But Nicklaus and I are not rivals. We're partners and we play well together."

Winning the individual trophy means more to Palmer this year than it ever has.

This is his fourth try at it. Although he for years has been rated golf's No. 1 player, he has never won it.

Both Palmer and Nicklaus come here from a recent joust at Lafayette, La., where they tied up in an obscure PGA tour tournament in a stretch battle for the year's money-winning championship. Palmer lost it by $81.13.

Rivals or partners, the two powerful Yankees are heavily favored to give the United States its seventh team victory in the 12-year-old event and its fifth straight. Americans have won the individual only four times—Ed Furgol in 1955, Ben Hogan in 1956, Sam Sneed in 1961 and Nicklaus last year.

The picturesque 7,179-yard Kaanapali course on this resort island, 101 air miles from Honolulu, is tailored for Palmer and Nicklaus.

It is long and there is a lot of hitting room. The rough has been chopped down this week to eliminate it as a bad hazard.

Among early arrivals, most impressive have been the Australians, Canadians and "Chi Chi" Rodriguez, the 125-pound Puerto Rican. The slender "Chi Chi had his 65 in practice Monday.

Bruce Crampton of Australia, teaming with Bruce Devlin, said he believes the Australians have a good chance of beating the Americans. Similar confidence was voiced by Al Balding of Canada.

"George Knudson (Balding's partner) is playing better than I've ever seen him," the Canadian said. "And I am on my stick too."

San Rafael Cage Leagues Planned

Individual and teams interested in participating in the San Rafael Winter Adult Basketball Leagues scheduled to start next month are invited to contact the San Rafael Recreation Department, Director Joe Rodota announced today.

The leagues for class A, B and C teams is expected to get underway Jan 5, he said.

Chilean Reporter Describes Election Day, Sausalito Style

The story of election procedures and traditions in Sausalito and San Francisco is featured in a recent issue of the Chilean magazine "Ercilla."

Reporter Erica Vexler was in Sausalito during election time and was shown the inner workings of the election by representatives of Sausalito's People to People Committee, which has as its "sister city" Vina Del Mar, Chile.

Miss Vexler wrote in the article that it was a "campaign based on . . . rancors, hates and personal attacks."

Contrary to some Latin American election days, "in United States streets, nothing, absolutely nothing, indicates preoccupation, passion or any great interest in the election," she wrote.

She saw San Francisco voting machines, then came to Sausalito: "I remember the lovely town of Sausalito, relished the contrast," where in one home that served as a polling place she found coffee being served to voters.

She stopped at Sausalito Democratic headquarters to find "the woman of all work, Mary Lindheim, sculptor and excellent creator who molds rock, clay, enamels metal, and the one who with incredible feeling for color combines oil and precious stones over wood, attending the telephone."

She noted that artist Lindheim turned to baby sitting to release one mother to vote, while others at the headquarters drove cars, even cooked so other homebound mothers could get to the polls.

The article is illustrated with photos by Sausalito photographer Michael E. Bry, who for 16 years resided in Chile.

In another recent article in the magazine, reporter Juan Ehrmann describes to Chilean readers the setting of Sausalito, its "upper middle class" inhabitants and the "bearded ones and Bohemians who are accustomed to meeting in the No Name Bar."

He notes that there are two theaters in the city and "quality books" in the library, describes Sally Stanford's history and restaurant and her two tries to be elected to the city council.

"Thanks to the People to People Committee, Sausalito is the only city in the United States where they don't say: 'Where do you live—Lima or Buenos Aires or Bogota?' when you indicate you are a Chilean," writes Ehrmann.

Senator Thurmond Is Due Surgery

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. J. Strom Thurmond (R-S.C.), plans to enter Walter Reed Medical Center here Saturday, his 62nd birthday, to undergo surgery for a gall bladder ailment.

Thurmond's office said yesterday an operation for removal of the senator's gall bladder and appendix would be performed Monday. It was expected he would remain hospitalized for about two weeks, then spend two weeks recuperating at home.

Father Faces Fire Deaths Arraignment

BALTIMORE (UPI)—A father faced arraignment today on charges of setting the fire in his home which killed seven of his 11 children.

Arnold Kennard Smith, 40, who was released on bail last week after spending three months in jail for another killing, was charged with homicide by arson in the deaths of the youngsters, ranging in age from 1 to 13.

The children were burned to death in their home which became an inferno when a gasoline can and a flaming paper torch were thrown through a front window.

The dead children's mother and four other teen-aged children survived.

Smith was held in jail for three months on charges of fatally stabbing Mrs. Helen Wallace, who lived several blocks from the Smith home. The woman's body was found in Smith's backyard.

Police said Smith told them he killed Mrs. Wallace in self-defense.

Mrs. Smith said that she obtained a warrant for the arrest of her husband because he had threatened her life.

THE SAUCED DUCKLING

Season To Serve Sauced Duckling

This is the season for many a deliciously sauced duckling to be a menu's main attraction. Cut into quarters for easier serving, the duckling is sauced with a ready-to-use canned spaghetti mushroom sauce and baked until tender. The proof of a fine chef seasoning is in the eating and this sauced duckling is magnificent.

Serve it with a combination of wild and white rice, brussels sprouts and chestunts, avocado and orange salad, and for dessert, meringues with ice cream. Here is a menu for the most festive of occasions or the happiest of family dinners.

SAUCED DUCKLING

1 (4-5 lb. duckling
1 (15½ oz.) can spaghetti mushroom sauce
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 envelope brown seasoning and broth
½ cup hot water
2 tablespoons orange juice
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon brown sugar

If duckling is frozen, thaw. Wipe duckling with damp cloth. Cut into quarters. Preheat oven 350° F. Place duckling quarters in shallow 12" x 8" baking pan skin side up. Bake uncovered for 1½ hours. Meanwhile, mix remaining ingredients together. After 1½ hours, remove duckling from oven and pour off all fat. Spread the duckling pieces generously with about one-half of the spaghetti sauce mixture. Return to oven and bake for 25 minutes. Again, baste generously with the sauce and bake for 25 minutes longer. Meanwhile, heat the remaining sauce to pass with the duckling. Remove duckling from oven and arrange on platter. Serve with rice garnished with kumquats. Makes 4 servings.

Quickie Avocado Salad A Delicacy

Winter varieties of California avocados are back in markets once again to enable you to enjoy such delicacies as "Quickie Avocado Salad." For this fast-to-fix treat with its south-of-the-border culinary touches, a salad oil dressing accented with chopped onion and green chili peppers and pimiento strips is spooned into luscious avocado half-shells. No trouble to make —and a real pleasure to eat!

QUICKIE AVOCADO SALAD

¼ cup salad oil
¼ cup finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons pimiento strips
1 tablespoon chopped green chili peppers or 2 tablespoons chopped sweet green pepper and dash Tabasco
½ teaspoon salt
2 California avocados
Iceberg lettuce

Combine all ingredients except avocados and lettuce in small jar. Cover and shake well. Cut avocados lengthwise into halves; remove seeds and skin. Arrange avocado halves in lettuce cups on individual plates. Shake dressing again and spoon into avocados. Makes 4 servings.

A Basic Recipe For Butter Cake

A basic butter cake!
Three-Layer Butter Cake
Beverage Pastel Mints

THREE-LAYER BUTTER CAKE

3 cups sifted cake flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup butter
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon almond extract
4 eggs
1 cup milk

Line the bottoms of three 9-inch round layer-cake pans with wax paper; butter paper. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, sugar, vanilla and almond extract. Thoroughly beat in eggs, one at a time. Stir in flour (in 4 additions) alternately with milk, mixing just until smooth after each addition. Turn into prepared pans; bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—30 to 35 minutes. Turn out on wire racks; remove paper; turn right side up; cool. Fill and frost as desired.

Perfect for Rolls

If there is a 12-cup aluminum popover pan in your kitchen, you'll find it's perfect for baking refrigerated butterflake rolls. Make 12 individual rolls out of the package (about 8 ounces).

Turtlette Candies For Holidays Ahead

Any cook who would like to turn out a delectable tasting and professional looking candy should be interested in this recipe.

The friend who passed it along to us called the candies Turtlettes. Good name! Pecan halves and caramel candy make turtle shapes; a coating of semi-sweet chocolate forms the covering. The result? Candies that look like miniature turtles.

The pecans are arranged on buttered cookie sheets and the caramel is spooned over them.

The caramel is an old friend—the best rule of this sort that we've ever come upon. The chocolate needs only to be melted and spread.

One hint: if the last of the caramel gets a little to thick to spoon over the last of the nuts, just place it over hot water until it is manageable.

TURTLETTE CANDIES

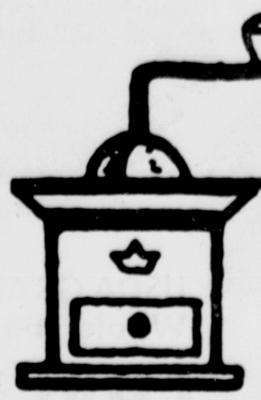
Small pecan halves (9 to 12 ounces)
2 cups light cream
2 cups sugar
1 cup light or dark corn syrup
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 package (12 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate pieces

On buttered cookie sheets, arrange 4 dozen groups—each consisting of 4 pecan halves.

In a large heavy saucepan, heat the cream to lukewarm. Pour out 1 cup; reserve. To the remaining lukewarm cream in the saucepan, add the sugar, corn syrup and salt. Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until mixture boils. Very slowly stir in the reserved 1 cup cream so mixture does not stop boiling. Cook and stir constantly for 5 minutes. Stir in butter, about 1 teaspoon at a time. Turn heat low. Boil gently and stir constantly until temperature reaches 248 degrees on a candy thermometer or until a small amount of the mixture dropped into very cold water forms a firm ball that does not flatten on removal from the water. Remove from heat. Gently stir in vanilla; cool slightly.



Pour about 1 teaspoon of the slightly cooked caramel mixture over the center of each group of pecan halves, half covering each nut, to resemble turtles. Let cool about 10 minutes.

Melt semi-sweet chocolate without stirring over hot (not boiling) water; stir until smooth. Spread over each turtle candy. When set, wrap each candy in clear plastic film. Makes about 4 dozen. (AP)

Pumpkin Pie Is Favored With A Hint Of Brandy

Made with a hint of brandy to tempt the most discriminating appetite, this company-choice pie uses an extra egg for a finer texture and richer flaver. Eggs have flavor, color, leavening, and thickening or binding power which makes them invaluable in preparation of other foods — from appetizers, to main dishes, salads, breads and desserts. And often when an extra egg is added, the result is even more desirable, as in the velvety smooth custard of this pumpkin pie.

BRANDIED PUMPKIN PIE

1 9-inch unbaked pastry shell
1½ cups cooked or canned mashed pumpkin
1 cup light brown sugar
½ cup light cream
6 tablespoons milk
4 eggs, slightly beaten
1½ tablespoons brandy
½ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup sour cream
2-3 teaspoons brandy

Combine pumpkin, sugar, cream and milk. Stir in eggs, brandy and spices; mix well. Pour mixture into prepared pastry shell. Bake at 450°F. for 5 minutes; reduce heat to 350°F. and continue to bake for 50 to 60 minutes, or until filling is set in center when pie is gently shaken. Cool on wire rack.

Just before serving, garnish pie with sour cream that has been flavored with brandy. (Makes 6 to 8 servings.)

TO PUBLISH WEDDINGS, BETROTHALS

The December holidays are a popular time for weddings and betrothal announcements. Form for engagement and wedding stories to be printed by the Independent-Journal are available from the I-J offices in San Rafael, Novato, Mill Valley and Corte Madera.

Wedding forms must be returned to the I-J office promptly and information will be printed immediately after the wedding. Photographers should be urged to submit a wedding print promptly for publication.

The Independent-Journarl does not print wedding stories or photographs more than 30 days after the wedding.

Engagement forms may be accompanied by a professional black and white photograph, which may be obtained in the office after it is printed. Color pictures or snapshots are not suitable for publication.

NEWLYWEDS TAKE FLIGHT

Preparing to board a helicopter for a wedding trip to Carmel are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lewis Spink who were married on Saturday at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo. The bride is the former Lynne-Margaret (Mimi) Owen of San Rafael. The helicopter took off from the parking lot at the Rafael Racquet Club following the reception and landed at Marin County Heliport at Richardson Bay, and continued to Carmel by car. The couple will reside in San Mateo.

Queen Shops Once A Year

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth II likes to have what she calls "a really good poke 'round everything" on the one time a year when she goes shopping—for Christmas presents.

Court etiquette prevents her from going out to buy anything except Christmas gifts. Everything else is sent to the palace for her to choose from.

So the queen always looks forward eagerly to her annual expedition to a famous store (Harrods) in the London district of Knightsbridge, near Buckingham Palace, for the pleasure which other women take as a matter of course.

She writes her gift list well in advance, makes secret inquiries as to tastes, and adds Prince Philip's gifts to her own.

Her lady-in-waiting telephones the store manager to say when she is arriving. "No publicity, please," is the strict rule. One Christmas the newspapers described the toys the queen had bought. Her eldest children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne, discovered what they were to receive three weeks in advance!

This year the queen has a special gift for them. She is having a "teen-age rumpus room" made in the Victoria Tower of Windsor Castle, which the royal family uses as a week-end home. The soundproofed room will have television, hi-fi equipment, a tape recorder and rugs that can be removed for dancing sessions.

Where Are Boys? Check Ski Slopes

NEW YORK (AP) — Where the boys are, according to a lot of propaganda, is on the beaches anywhere under the sun at vacation times. But girls in vast numbers are there too.

Where the boys are in satisfactory proportion from the female point of view is on the snowy slopes in the high altitude — all with rudders on their feet.

Most wise girls do not like these statistics to get around and possibly spoil a good thing. Still, every man hunter should know that two out of every three of the 1,750,000 skiers cutting through the pristine snows in the U. S. and Canada this season are male.

And four out of seven are single.

Is it any wonder then that 75 per cent of the females getting a lift up mountainsides these days are single girls? And is it any wonder that ski clothes have become important fashion investments?

A she skier knows that if she wants to change a he skier's mind about soloing the snow circuit she can't wear just any old thing. Of course, she has to keep the body warm, in order to be a really good sport but the old fashioned way of piling on layers of clothing does not catch any first — let alone second — glances.

Demand always creates supply, and so designers around the world have come up with manhunt clothes for the snows that are both pretty and practical.

Joan Donavin Will Marry In A Christmas Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Campbell have announced the engagement of their daughter Joan Donavin to Daniel Francis Voss of Anderson, Ind., at a small party for relatives and friends at their home in Belvedere.

The bride-elect attended Sacred Heart Convent, Marymount in Santa Barbara, and was graduated from the Santa Barbara Catholic High School. She is also a graduate of the Academy of Stenographic Arts. Joan is now a court reporter for the municipal courts of the County of San Mateo.

Mrs. Amelie Smith of Sausalito is her grandmother.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. Voss of Anderson, Ind. Daniel attended St. Mary's High School in Anderson and was graduated from Xavier University in Cincinnati. He is on the General Motors financial staff.

A Christmas holiday wedding is planned.

New Electric Tray

For buffet entertaining, or for everyday family use, a new electric serving tray will keep foods hot and cold at the same time. Fashioned of fiberglas, and using a new fibreheat principle, the warming surface of the tray has a built-in cold spot, ideal, for instance, for the icy green salad that goes so well with piping hot casseroles or for hot and cold hors d'oeuvres.

Miss Higgins Plans Wedding In Summer

The engagement of Pamela Higgins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Higgins of Tiburon, to Howard I. Nurse has been announced.

Howard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Nurse of St. Joseph, Mich., and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lutgens of San Rafael and Col. and Mrs. Howard B. Nurse of San Francisco.

Pamela, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shumaker of Tiburon, was graduated from Tamalpais High School and is a senior at Mills College.

The future bridegroom is a senior at Stanford University. A midsummer wedding is planned.

Interstate Schools Plan Given Backing

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown said California would play a leading role in the creation of a proposed interstate commission to study problems and set policy for schools throughout the country.

Brown made the statement following a conference with Dr. James B. Conant, president emeritus of Harvard University and a nationally recognized critic and authority on education.

In his most recent book, Dr. Conant suggested that at least 15 to 20 of the most populous states enter into a compact for the creation of a nationwide educational policy council. He said local school boards, state departments of education and the federal government have failed to develop policies which fit the needs of "the new awesome age in which we live."

"I told Dr. Conant that I will do whatever possible to help get such a cooperative committee formed," Brown said. "He has suggested that the way out of this educational crisis the nation faces is for the states to first reorganize their departments of education and develop a master plan for education — then to form the nationwide interstate commission to study major problems.

"California already has its master plan for higher education, a plan which Dr. Conant has told me is the best in the entire nation," Brown said. "At the present time we are in the process of studying the reorganization of the state department of education. We are ready to take that third step."

Assemblyman Charles B. Garrigus (D-Reedley), chairman of the Assembly Education Committee, who also met with Conant, said he would introduce a resolution in the 1965 session of the legislature endorsing the idea of working with other states to draw up the compact.

Member states would not be bound by commission recommendations but public opinion probably would get most of the commission ideas through, Brown said.

Mrs. Geddes Dies

Strangling Death Ruled Accidental

CONCORD (AP)—The death of a Concord housewife by strangling has been ruled accidental.

Police said Mrs. Joyce Olson, 33, died Monday night after she fell asleep with a telephone cord wrapped around her neck.

Police said Mrs. Olson's daughters, Amy, 9, and Kathleen, 6, had playfully wrapped the cord around their mother's neck while she talked on the phone.

Mrs. Olson, confined to bed by a cold, apparently forgot about the cord and fell asleep, police said.

Douglas J. Quiett of Tiburon, chairman of the Marin chapter, Congress on Racial Equality, has been elected Northern California district chairman for the newly formed Western Regional Action Council.

Spy Case Figure Is Hospitalized

LONDON (UPI) — Greville Wynne, the British businessman who spent more than a year in a Soviet jail as an alleged western spy, collapsed on a London street early today and was taken to a hospital.

A spokesman at the hospital said later that the 45-year-old Wynne had suffered a slight nervous relapse.

Guerrillas Killed

KUCHING, Malaysia (AP) — A British Gurkha patrol killed six Indonesian guerrillas in a jungle clash in Malaysia's Borneo state of Sarawak, a military spokesman said today.

Youth Is Awarded Hospital Damages

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A Superior Court jury Monday awarded $165,000 damages to John Sisneroz, 20, of Fremont, in his suit against Kaiser Hospital, Oakland.

Sisneroz testified that he underwent surgery for removal of damaged cartilage in his right knee and the doctor inadvertantly severed a main artery. Several weeks later gangrene set in, he said, and doctors were forced to amputate the leg.

No world leader before the late President John F. Kennedy has been so widely commemorated in geographical terms.

Stadium Plan Is Called 'Mickey Mouse' Scheme

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Sen. Thomas M. Rees (D-Los Angeles) has charged regents of the University of California are heading through the back door with a "Mickey Mouse" financing scheme to build an unnecessary 4.5-million-dollar stadium.

The 44,000-seat stadium would be financed by borrowing funds from the university endowment fund, to be repaid by taking from the "incidental fees" which all university students must pay for support of non-educational functions, Rees said.

"The decision to construct this new miniature colliseum of the westside was never brought before the legislature," Rees said. "It was probably in anticipation of a turn-down by the legislature and the regents this time decided to go through the back door to build this project by what can only be called 'Mickey Mouse' financing.

"At a time when we should be cutting on excess and fringe costs to make sure that the taxpayers will support legislature expense of higher education, we find UCLA heading through the back door to finance a gold-plated football stadium because they say it is an inconvenience to travel to the Los Angeles Colliseum to see their four or five annual home games," he said.

"The 4.5 million dollars this facility will cost could pay the salaries of an additional 400 professors for a year, or build three or four new classroom buildings," Rees said. "Instead, the money is going to football."

Rees said the emphasis at UCLA was shifting to graduate work and, when the school reached its ultimate population of 24,000, a majority of the students would be doing graduate work. He said as the graduate student population grew, there followed a de-emphasis of sports activity.

"But still the regents are planning the stadium," Rees said.

HUB CITY GETS YULE LOOK

A towering "candolier" is installed at Tunstead and San Anselmo avenues in San Anselmo as the city's downtown area starts getting dressed up for Christmas. Decorations were to be complete by today, according to City Administrator Douglas Flautt. The San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce supplied the decorations, city council authorized use of city street crews to install them, and individual merchants are paying for the electricity to light them, said Flautt.

'BAY PLAYGROUND'

Rec Potential Study Completed

adequacy of county and municipal recreation facilities.

The 11 county parks amount to hardly more than open parcels of land except for two boat ramps and the development of Paradise Beach Park, which will be "the first real county park," Horchler wrote.

The approximately 300 acres of parks and playgrounds developed by municipalities and recreation districts are not adequate for the population and some areas do not even have neighborhood playgrounds, he said.

"There is not one single fresh water surface where swimming can be enjoyed," Horchler noted. "Boating on fresh water is practically non-existing in Marin."

Horchler pointed out that although Marin has its share of national and state facilities, including the Point Reyes National Seashore, these are used mainly by visitors.

Picnic areas are crowded and the overnight camping situation is poor, he said.

"Last, but not least, the visitor to Marin is sadly disappointed in seeing the miserable treatment given to urban waterfronts."

The plans covers a variety of recreation facilities ranging from roadside rests to a full-scale reservoir development in the Chileno Valley on the Marin-Sonoma County line, including fishing, beaches, water sports, riding, hiking, golf course and overnight accommodations.

The county's role is seen as that of cooperating with other agencies and coordinating programs, not of undertaking ambitious land acquisition programs.

The planners anticipated that private capital will play an important role in recreational development. In the case of boating facilities and golf courses, it is suggested that the county might have to participate, at least in the initial phases of construction.

A program outlined in the plan calls for:

The county to provide municipal-level recreational programs only at the Civic Center-county fairgrounds complex.

Efforts to be made have the water districts retain district lands in natural state, and to acquire park areas and reserve green belts by negotiation or gifts.

County cooperation with state and federal park programs and private developers.

Among the recommendations in the plan are that:

Open or conservation zones be adopted for public and private lands.

A streets and highways plan be adopted that takes into account the recreation travel pattern and its particular demands and construction of highway access to Point Reyes National Seashore.

A system of hiking, riding, fishing and cycling trails be established making existing fire trail roads and abandoned or additional right-of-way available.

Local agencies make a greater effort to provide the necessary recreation outlets.

Committees Formed By Owner Group

Directors of the San Marin Homeowners Assn. in Novato voted to form seven committees.

The committees formed and chairmen or temporary chairmen named were: school, Wayne Sartan of 141 San Felipe Way, temporary chairman; local government, Herbert Gordon of 103 San Carlos Way, chairman; recreation, Robert Wise of 185 San Carlos Way, chairman; youth activities, R. Allen Bolton of 173 San Carlos Way, temporary chairman; social events, Mrs. Brent Purdom of 113 San Carlos Way, temporary chairman; public relations, Jerry A. Smith of 26 San Benito Way, chairman, and welcoming, no chairman yet chosen.

Arlo R. Jones was named parliamentarian.

The board voted to continue meeting on the fourth Tuesday of each month but to omit the December meeting.

Open Meetings Topic For State

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The Assembly Committee on Government Organization will hold the first of three meetings on freedom of information in San Diego today and tomorrow.

The committee, which also will spend part of the San Diego session in continuing its studies of liquor license problems, will be considering three proposals to extend the present law requiring open meetings and records of public agencies.

One of the proposals is a bill by the committee chairman, Assemblyman Milton Marks (D-San Francisco), which would require committees and subcommittees of legislative bodies of local agencies to be open to the public. It also would require open meetings for committees and subcommittees of state boards and commissions, if the full boards or commissions come under the open meeting act.

Another measure, by Assemblyman Tom Carrell (D-San Fernando), would authorize radio and television coverage of all public meetings and hearings of legislative and administrative agencies of the state. Cameras and other equipment would be required to operate silently and with available light.

"The passage of the Brown Act in 1953 (by former Assemblyman Ralph M. Brown) clearly declared as a matter of public policy that the people of the State of California have a 'right to know' about the operations of the government agencies which serve them," Marks said. "To assist us in this study we are requesting that reporters, editors and publishers of California newspapers and other interested citizens furnish the committee with examples of their experiences in gaining access to meetings and records."

The committee also has sent questionnaires to state agencies for information on their meeting policy. Later meetings will be held in Los Angeles on Dec. 11 and in San Francisco on Dec. 14.

U.S. Rules Out Troops For Congo

WASHINGTON (AP) — A State Department spokesman said yesterday that the United States is not trying to get other African nations to come to the aid of the central Congo government in its fight against Congolese rebels.

Press officer Marshall Wright, asked about a New York Times story that the Johnson administration thinks troops from other African nations are needed desperately to restore stability, said:

"I am aware of no current diplomatic efforts directed to this end."

South Africa Bars Visit By Satchmo

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—The South African government has refused an entry visa to American trumpeter Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong.

The South Africa Press Assn. reported today that the government gave no reason for the refusal. Presumably the visa was withheld because Armstrong is a Negro.

New Legal Adviser

SACRAMENTO (AP) — George H. Murphy was sworn in yesterday as the legislature's chief legal adviser, succeeding the late Angus C. Morrison.

Profumo Qualifies For $1.6 Million

LONDON (AP)—Former British War Minister John Profumo, 49, who resigned last year after admitting he lied to cover a liaison with call girl Christine Keeler, will be able to pocket $1,680,000 under an agreement announced today in the High Court in London.

His brother and two sisters get similar sums. In return they forfeit life interests in trusts of 11.2 million dollars set up by their father, the late Baron Albert Profumo.

Radio Fans Head

Hugh Cassidy of 77 Coleman Drive, San Rafael, has been elected section communications manager by the amateur radio members of the American Radio Relay League in San Francisco. Cassidy, whose call letters are WA6AUD, is superintendent of mails at the San Rafael post office.

Parking Lots To Open Friday

Lower levels of the municipal parking lots at Fifth Avenue-C Street and Third Street-Lootens Place in San Rafael will be opened for cars Friday night, Mayor John F. McInnis declared today.

McInnis said the city has ordered a speedup on double-decking of the lots, under way by contractor William J. Nicholson of Santa Clara.

Deadline for completing the double-decking under the contract is Dec. 11, but Nicholson some time ago promised both lots would be ready for Thanksgiving. Neither is ready yet.

The mayor said he has authorized payment of overtime in addition to the contract price, with assurance of city council concurrence, to speed completion of the second decks, which are badly needed for parking by Christmas shoppers. Additional cost may be about $2,000, he said.

Temporary lights will be in use for opening of the Fifth Avenue-C Street lot, he reported.

Nicholson yesterday promised Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles that, with overtime work, the new decks can be ready for cars by Dec. 9, the mayor said.

Trains, Ferries Recalled

Marin County's long-abandoned rapid transit system and ferries are recalled in a book published this week.

Two longtime railroad buffs, in their volume covering the history of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, have included data on NWP'S old electric train system which was a key feature of Marin life before World War II.

The authors are Fred A. Stindt of Redwood City, chairman of the Pacific Coast Chapter of the Railway and Locomotive Historical Society, and Guy L. Dunscomb of Modesto. The book, "Northwestern Pacific — Redwood Empire Route," reprints more than 500 photos — some 70 years old — together with maps, a complete history of the line's growth and partial abandonments, and lists of ferry boats and rolling stock. The pictures include 20 boat photos, as well as bridges, trestles, roundhouses, various types of cars and practically every engine used on the system.

Given One To 10 For Manslaughter

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — William Henry Harrison, 32, yesterday was sentenced from one to 10 years in prison for involuntary manslaughter.

Harrison was charged with killing Leon Peterson, 26, San Carlos, a customer in the Highway Book Store July 21 when a gun he was handling discharged.

Harrison pleaded no contest in Supreme Court to the charge on recommendation by the Vacaville Medical Facility.

Peterson's widow, Carolyn, has filed a $500,000 damage suit against Harrison and the book store owner, Sam Ratner.

Bird Island Film, Talk Set At College

Dr. George Lindsay, director of the California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco, will show and narrate a moving picture about Bird Island, a sanctuary in the Gulf of California, at 8 p.m. Friday in room 40, chemistry building, College of Marin.

No admission is charged, according to Mary Mayer, publicity chairman for the sponsoring Marin Audubon Society.

In Basic Training

Thomas B. Richey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Richey of 19 Francis Avenue, Larkspur, has begun basic training at the Recruit Training Command, San Diego Naval Training Center.

She flew here with Johnson last Sunday night on what White House press secretary George Reedy called "a purely private, personal visit."

Judicial Group Approves Uniform Bail Schedules

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A uniform bail schedule for traffic cases throughout the state has been approved by the California Judicial Council, it was announced yesterday.

At present, judges in each county set a schedule for their county, but there has been wide variation between counties. A year-long study showed cases where bail in one county was 10 times more than bail in another county.

The newly-recommended schedule will go into effect Jan. 1. Judges are not required to adopt the uniform schedule, but those who do not follow it must report any differences in their schedule to the council.

The new schedule, covering 150 vehicle code sections, would set bail for speeding in 65 mile an hour zones at $2 per mile for the first 10 miles, $3 per mile for the second 10, up to a maximum of $50, plus court appearances for exceeding the limits by 21 or more miles.

In zones of under 60 miles an hour, bail would be $1 a mile for the first 10 miles, $2 a mile for the second 10, and $3 a mile for going 21-25 miles, up to a maximum of $50 with court appearances required for speeding more than 25 MPH over the limit.

Court appearances also would be required for many other charges. Among them, with their recommended bails are drunk driving, $300; reckless driving, $100; and reckless driving with bodily injury, $300.

The State Judicial Council is composed of 12 judges from all levels of courts, four attorneys and two legislators.

Indian crafts were first ceremonial or utilitarian, with beauty only a secondary consideration.

Alternating Current Propulsion System To Be Tested For Transit

A new type of electrical propulsion system being developed for the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District could save commuters and taxpayers more than one million dollars annually in power costs, the developer reported here this week.

The system, being built by Garrett-Airesearch, Los Angeles, will be powered by alternating current, a concept never before applied to the rapid transit field.

According to Airesearch engineers, rapid transit trains propelled with this type of electrical drive unit will not only consume electric power but also generate it.

Airesearch was recently awarded a $319,459 contract by the rapid transit district to build a one-car propulsion set incorporating the new equipment. The propulsion unit is scheduled to be delivered in July 1965. It will then be evaluated along with other electrical propulsion sets.

The Airesearch system will generate the cost saving power by "regenerative braking." During acceleration and cruising the system uses electrical power much the same as direct current units. However, during braking and deceleration for station stops the trains alternating current drive motors become generators which not only act as brakes for the train but also generate electricity. This electrical power is fed back into the power distribution system for use by other trains.

Other advantages cited for the new design include a weight reduction of as much as 5000 pounds per drive set over traditional systems of this size. This weight reduction will allow light weight cars, thus reducing structural costs and, over the long run, add to the operational life of tracks and roadbeds. It will also help reduce power costs since more power is required to move heavier equipment.

Unlike conventional systems the Airesearch drive motors are sealed from dust and dirt and have no internal brushes to wear out. This feature also reduces the amount of trackside electrical equipment required.

Neglected Children Called Pocket Of Poverty In State

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A state study commission reported yesterday on a youthful pocket of poverty in California—thousands of neglected children.

They are victims of broken homes, and mentally ill, cruel, ignorant or impoverished parents and they need more government protection, said the Joint Study Committee on Children's Services.

The report was written by the National Study Service, operated by several national welfare organizations. The study was conducted in Butte, Contra Costa, Kern, Los Angeles, Orange, San Diego, San Mateo, Santa Cruz, Tuolumne, Ventura and Alameda counties.

The report said it was impossible to determine the exact number of children classified as neglected but noted that 21,262 youngsters had been referred to local probation departments as neglect cases in the last fiscal year.

The study recommended a wide legislative program including:

Establishment of county commissions on care and protection of children and setting up a Division of Child Care and Protection in each county.

Strengthen probation departments to handle these cases.

Rancher Is Suing Over Dog Attacks

George Giannecchini, a cattle rancher in the area north of Fort Cronkite on Tennessee Valley Road, said yesterday he will sue the county because it failed to protect his cattle from dogs which mutilate them.

Giannecchini said that last Friday three dogs chased a two-year-old Holstein heifer on his ranch and were virtually eating it alive when he discovered and shot two of the dogs in a creek where they had cornered the heifer.

The heifer was missing its tail and flesh from its lower jaw, and, the rancher said, "its sides were in ribbons." He said he disposed of the heifer because it was unable to eat and would have starved.

Giannecchini said that county law requires dogs to be controlled. The dogs he shot had no collars or licenses, he said.

Leydecker Plan Subject Of Panel

The redistricting plan proposed by County Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker will be the subject of a panel discussion tomorrow at 9 a.m. on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board."

Supervisor Leydecker, two supervisors-elect, Ernest N. Kettenhoffen of District 2 and Thomas T. Storer of District 4, and Larkspur Mayor Neil R. Brixon will be speakers. Moderator Kitty Oppenheimer will accept questions from listeners during the broadcast. The program will be re-broadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

16 CORE Members Are Given Fines

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sixteen members of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) were ordered Monday to pay fines ranging from $75 to $250 on convictions arising from demonstrations Aug. 3 at a White Citizens Council meeting.

Police said they stretched themselves across a driveway at the Los Angeles Breakfast Club to prevent cars from leaving a council meeting.

Special Meeting

Mill Valley School District trustees will hold a special meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the district office to discuss criteria for selecting an architect to study classroom needs. The board will go into closed session at 7:45 p.m. to discuss hiring personnel.

Rancher Is Suing Over Dog Attacks

George Giannecchini, a cattle rancher in the area north of Fort Cronkite on Tennessee Valley Road, said yesterday he will sue the county because it failed to protect his cattle from dogs which mutilate them.

Giannecchini said that last Friday three dogs chased a two-year-old Holstein heifer on his ranch and were virtually eating it alive when he discovered and shot two of the dogs in a creek where they had cornered the heifer.

The heifer was missing its tail and flesh from its lower jaw, and, the rancher said, "its sides were in ribbons." He said he disposed of the heifer because it was unable to eat and would have starved.

Giannecchini said that county law requires dogs to be controlled. The dogs he shot had no collars or licenses, he said.

Leydecker Plan Subject Of Panel

The redistricting plan proposed by County Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker will be the subject of a panel discussion tomorrow at 9 a.m. on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board."

Supervisor Leydecker, two supervisors-elect, Ernest N. Ketenhoffen of District 2 and Thomas T. Storer of District 4, and Larkspur Mayor Neil R. Brixon will be speakers. Moderator Kitty Oppenheimer will accept questions from listeners during the broadcast. The program will be re-broadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

16 CORE Members Are Given Fines

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sixteen members of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) were ordered Monday to pay fines ranging from $75 to $250 on convictions arising from demonstrations Aug. 3 at a White Citizens Council meeting.

Special Meeting

Mill Valley School District trustees will hold a special meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the district office to discuss criteria for selecting an architect to study classroom needs. The board will go into closed session at 7:45 p.m. to discuss hiring personnel.

TWIN CITY LIBRARY PROBLEMS STUDIED

Many Ways Outlined For Joint Construction, Use Of Facility

There are many ways Larkspur and Corte Madera might join for construction of a library to serve both cities, but each way raises some problems, representatives of the two cities and the county learned at a meeting yesterday in Larkspur.

Larkspur will never give up control over its library to become part of a county system, declared Mrs. Helen S. Wilson, Larkspur librarian.

Santa Rosa librarian David Sabsay said both communities will stand a far better chance to receive federal and state grants for construction of a new building if they make some arrangement for joint operation.

He said that the two cities could join in a county services area, to finance the building, leaving operation and administration aside until later—if their city council approved, or a library district could be established.

Most flexible arrangement, he said, would be a joint powers agreement. This might be between the City of Larkspur, which operates its own library, and the county, which has a branch in Corte Madera.

Mrs. Wilson said that regardless of the arrangement for financing, she hoped operation would be under a local library board rather than the county board of supervisors.

(A county services area, which is operated by the county supervisors, would have its own tax levy. Similarly, a library district would levy its own taxes, but would be under local control.)

Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow of Corte Madera said he would object to any set-up whereby the city would have to talk to its library board through the county. He said he would rather control be either entirely local or entirely by the county.

Mrs. Keating asked whether Larkspur would be willing to join with the county in renting space as an interim move. Mrs. Wilson said she is opposed to renting.

Larkspur City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper said he felt a joint powers agreement might work. He suggested Larkspur might build a library and rent space to the county to serve patrons outside the city.

Sabsay said federal and state laws giving funds for local libraries all insist libraries be a part of a "system." He said the North Bay Co-operative Library System qualifies, and Marin County Library will receive $10,000 to improve reference services because it belongs to that system. Larkspur is not a member of the co-operative.

Sabsay added that to receive a federal grant, three local dollars must be provided for each one from Washington. He said that library operating revenue must be equivalent to that raised by a 15-cent property tax, although it need not all come from taxes.

Piper, noting that Larkspur's library tax is now 11 cents, said it might be cheaper to raise taxes for a few years to pay for a new building, and forego the federal funds.

Merchants Pleased By Extra Police Officers

Four extra police officers, stationed on San Rafael's Fourth Street nightly since the day after Thanksgiving, are keeping traffic flowing, customers buying and store owners happy, according to police.

The plan has eased merchants' fears in two ways.

First, it has temporarily ended the traffic tie-ups which were hurting business on Friday nights earlier this year.

Police said the present system, which went into effect Friday, varies little from the standard routine during Christmas season each year. The "extra" manpower is created by taking a few hours, here and there, from regular beats and duties.

Members of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce earlier became alarmed over problems raised when teen-agers used the street as a "recreation area," often stopping in mid-block to carry on conversations.

The merchants agreed to start paying off-duty patrolmen to man downtown corners each Friday evening. Agreeing on a one-month trial run, they said they would negotiate with the city council to work out a long-range plan in which the city and the chamber would share the cost.

Officers were paid by the merchants for three Fridays before the city's full-time holiday schedule went into effect.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said yesterday that the chamber has not yet asked the city for a plan for additional officers on Friday nights after Christmas.

Strep Leads Disease List

There were 59 cases of streptococcic infection reported in Marin County last week, according to Dr. Carolyn G. Albrecht, county health officer.

San Rafael and Mill Valley had the largest number of strep infections, 23 and 10 cases, respectively.

Other cases of communicable diseases numbered six each of mumps and measles, eight of gonorrhea, five of syphillis and one each of salmonella, infectious hepatitis and coccidioidomycosis—or valley fever.

Firm Is Asking Floats Permit

Application for a permit to construct a bulkhead and two floats in Corte Madera Creek about 800 feet east of Bon Air Bridge in Larkspur has been requested by Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. of San Rafael.

Approximately 400 cubic yards of material would be dredged from the creek fronting the bulkhead and deposited along the shore at 535 Larkspur Plaza, according to Lt. Col. Robert H. Allan of the Army Corps of Engineers.

Objections to the proposal must be filed in triplicate with Allan by Dec. 30. No exclusive privileges or property rights are granted when the permit is issued, according to Allan.

Garden, Landscape Film To Be Shown

"Spring Odyssey" shows Spanish, French, Dutch, English, Welsh and Scottish ports visited by the liner Kungsholm, with particular attention to spectacular gardens and landscapes. Free tickets may be obtained through travel agencies, according to the sponsor, R. M. Scruggs of the Swedish American Line.

Water Supply For Marincello Plans Outlined

Expected City Of 25,000 People Is Planning To Join MMWD

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Water to supply residents of the proposed new City of Marincello will come from present well and spring sources during the first phase of development, Henry M. Grant, vice president of Frouge Corp., developers, said today.

A public forum on Marincello, sponsored by the Marin Council for Civic Affairs and Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs, will be held at 8 p.m. today in the supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center.)

Water supplies for the completed city of 25,000 people are expected to come from Marin Municipal Water District, Grant reported.

He said there is considerable water now, once used by former property owners of the Silva Dairy Ranch.

Asked if the corporation would pay for new mains and water installation, Grant replied: "That will be worked out in conjunction with the supplying company . . . anything Marincello does is expected to be paid for by Marincello."

It is expected to cost one million dollars to run a line from Marin lakes to Marincello, or the headland adjoining the Southern Marin forts, said William R. Seeger, general manager of Marin Municipal Water District.

Seeger said that Marincello would first have to be annexed to the district, which would require a vote; it would have to pay an annexation charge which Seeger said he could not estimate now.

Marincello would have to pay the cost of new lines and installation of mains. "There will be enough supply for the city from present lakes plus the new supply coming in from Russian River," said Seeger. "There would be no cost to the consumers of the district." Grant said Marincello will probably have its own sanitary disposal plant, lines and district, although this has not definitely been decided. He said another possibility would be dumping sewage into the ocean, but this would take a long outfall.

Frank I. Lawson, chairman of Sausalito - Marin City Sanitary District, said the possibility of running a sewer line from Sausalito through Fort Baker tunnel has been mentioned. He said for Marincello to tie in with the Sausalito-Marin City district would require added pipe line and treatment facilities.

Electrical utilities will go underground, reported Grant, and in many cases will run through "linkage parks" as well as along roadways.

In cluster development, as is planned, each cluster of buildings has its own park system surrounding the buildings. It is owned and maintained by the owners of the buildings. These various clusters are then linked together with a park system which would be community-owned or municipally owned.

"There are no problems regarding gas and electricity utilities," said Ellis B. Langley, North Bay division sales manager of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. "We are ready, willing and able to go whenever and however Marincello wants, subject to negotiation on underground utilities."

Grant said coaxial television cables will also go underground and will give better reception to residents.

Grant said Frouge Corp. has spoken to the state regarding necessary improvements along Highway 101. Rodeo Avenue has been planned to be improved as a major connection to the projected city. Actual alignment and time table on Highway 101 "we will have to wait on," he said.

Access from Highway 101 to Marincello initially will probably be over the Spencer Avenue overpass, said J. O. Grasberger, executive assistant to the division of Highways' district engineer.

He added there is no reason, pending realization of the full development, that access cannot be over the proposed Rodeo Avenue overpass and via Shoreline Highway to Tennessee Valley. These two accesses would have to be approved by the State Highway Commission, however, he added.

Lerner Ordered To Pay Alimony

NEW YORK (UPI)—Alan Jay Lerner, the man who wrote the lyrics for "My Fair Lady," yesterday was ordered to jail unless he pays $16,500 in back alimony to his estranged wife.

Lerner was held in contempt of court and also ordered to pay $7,500 to his wife's attorney, Roy M. Cohn, in counsel fees.

$600,000 Spent For Prop. 14

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Committee for Home Protection, one of the two main groups that supported Proposition 14, spent more than $600,000 on its successful campaign, the secretary of state's office said yesterday.

The second group, known as the "Committee for Yes on Proposition 14," has until tomorrow to file its financial report.

Laurence H. Wilson of Fresno, chairman of the Committee for Home Protection, said it received donations totaling $606,513 and a $45,000 loan from the California Real Estate Assn. He said expenses totaled $628,831, of which nearly half went to advertising.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Even An Unknown Player Can Pull Off Expert Play

When an expert makes a good play we call it brilliance. If an unknown player does the same thing, it's dumb luck.

Opening lead — ♣ 5

South won the first trick with the queen of clubs and led a low diamond to dummy's jack. That's all. That was the end of the hand.

GOOD PLAY

East had made a good play by allowing dummy's jack of diamonds to win a trick. South could get to his hand with the ace of clubs to cash the ace and king of diamonds, but he could never make another diamond trick.

As a result of this play, South won only three diamond tricks in all.

This was not enough for game since he could get only two spades, one heart and two clubs in the side suits.

SECOND LOOK

Take a second look at the hand and see what would happen if East took the first diamond trick with his queen. South would get back to his hand with the ace of clubs to lead out the ace, king and 10 of diamonds.

The last two diamonds would then be good, and South would win five diamond tricks instead of only three.

When your contract is three notrump, there's a big difference between winning eight tricks and winning ten tricks. A difference of 730 points, if you want to get materialistic about it.

THIRD LOOK

Now take a third look at the hand to see how easy East's good play was. South had bid and rebid the diamonds and had led the suit at his first opportunity. It wasn't hard for East to assume that South was trying to set the suit up.

Similarly, it was easy for East to assume that refusing the first diamond trick would be a step in the right direction. Perhaps East couldn't tell that this simple play would defeat the contract, but it isn't necessary to be a prophet.

It is necessary only to make a simple good play and await developments.

DAILY QUESTION

Dealer, at your right, bids one diamond.

You hold:

♠ A K 9 6

♣ J 6 2

What do you say?

Answer: Double.

This asks partner to respond in his longest suit (giving preference, if possible, to a major suit). You would rather show support for both majors by doubling than merely overcall with one heart.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 2, the 337th day of 1964 with 29 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning stars are Venus and Saturn.

American Negro composer Henry Burleigh was born on this day in 1866.

On this day in history:

In 1942, the atomic age began when scientists working under the football stadium at the University of Chicago demonstrated a self-sustaining nuclear reaction.

A thought for the day—U.S. Naval Chester Nimitz said: "A ship is always referred to as a 'she' because it costs so much to keep one in paint and powder."

9. It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor and upon Subcontractors under him to pay not less than the said specified rates to all the laborers, workmen and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the Contract.

10. The Town Council of the Town of Corte Madera reserves the right to reject any and all bids and/or waive any irregularity in any bid received. Unless otherwise required by Law, no bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

No. 2024 Nov. 25, Dec. 2, 1964

NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS TAMALPAIS VALLEY SANITARY DISTRICT OFFICE, WORKSHOP & MEETING AREA

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District of Marin County, California will receive up to but not later than 8:15 o'clock p.m. on the 8th day of December 1964, sealed bids for the award of a contract for the furnishing of all labor, materials, methods or processes, implements, tools, machinery, equipment and all utilities, transportation and other services required to construct an office, workshop and meeting area, in strict accordance with the plans and specifications, for Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District of Marin County, California.

Each bid shall be in accordance with the plans, specifications and other documents now on file in the office of the District Secretary, 309 Poplar Avenue, Mill Valley, California, and copies may be obtained at the office of the District.

All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check payable to the order of the District amounting to ten per cent (10%) of the bid, or by a bond in said amount and payable to said District signed by the bidder and a corporate surety, or two in individual sureties who shall justify before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double said amount and over and above all statutory exemptions. Said check shall be forfeited or said bond shall become payable to said District in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within fifteen (15) days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the District, the faithful performance of which shall be secured by an undertaking in the amount of one hundred per cent (100%) of the amount so bid, with sureties satisfactory to the said District Board, and which shall be accompanied by a labor and material bond in a sum equal to fifty per cent (50%) of the amount of said bid, under the provisions of Chapter 3, comprising Sections 4200 to 4208, inclusive, of the Government Code of the State of California.

Notice is hereby given that on October 27, 1964, the Sanitary Board adopted a resolution determining the general prevailing rate of per diem wages in the locality in which the public work herein provided is to be done, for each craft or type of workmen required to execute the contract, a copy of which wage scale is attached hereto and incorporated herein and made a part of the specifications for said work.

The Board reserves the privilege of rejecting any and all bids or to waive any irregularities or informalities in any bid or in the bidding.

Unless otherwise required by law, no bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

DATED: October 27, 1964.

Each bid shall be made on a form to be obtained at the office of FALK & BOOTH, 16 Beale Street, San Francisco, California, and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or a bid bond for ten percent of the amount bid, made payable to the School District, and shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board on or before the 17th day of December, 1964 at 4:00 P.M. and will be opened in public at or about 4:00 P.M. of that day in Room 24, Harlan Hall, College of Marin, Kentfield, Marin County, California.

4. The above mentioned check or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract if awarded the work and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District.

5. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a labor and material bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price, said bonds to be secured from a surety company satisfactory to the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District.

6. Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California or local law thereto applicable, the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which the work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract which will be awarded the successful bidder.

7. The general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract has been ascertained by the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District to be as follows:

| CLASS OF WORK | WAGE PER HOUR |
|---|---|
| Carpenters— | |
| Journeyman | $4.33 |
| Electrical Workers | 5.45 |
| Glaziers | 4.455 |
| Laborers—General Building | 3.625 |
| Floormen—Asphalt Tile and Linoleum | 4.84875 |
| Painters—Brush and Spray (7 hours) | 4.47 |
| Plumbers | 5.425 |
| Roofers | 4.35 |
| Sheet Metal Workers | 4.85 |
| Watchman | 3.625 |

8. The working days shall be eight (8) hours unless otherwise specified above. The per diem rate shall be the hourly rate multiplied by the number of hours in the working day.

9. All other trades not hereinabove mentioned to receive wage prescribed for that particular craft or type of workman.

10. All labor to receive time and one-half for overtime, double time on holidays unless otherwise specified.

11. In addition to the hourly and/or per diem wages for the crafts, classifications or types of workmen listed above, contractors may be required to make employer payments for health and welfare, pension, vacation and similar purposes as required by the executed collective bargaining agreements for the particular craft, classification or type of work involved.

12. The Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District reserves the right to reject any and all bids and/or waive any irregularity in any bid received. Unless otherwise required by law, no bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

SCHOOL PARK — A 16-acre "central education plaza," proposed at East Orange, N.J., to provide for the school needs would include a primary school, an intermediate school, an upper school, and a curriculum center, junior college, offices, teacher training facilities, as well as a community center.

Education Parks Attracting Serious Attention In Nation

By ERWIN KNOLL
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — The education park is attracting serious attention as a possible response to pressing school problems in and around the larger cities.

In New York City, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and several other cities, interest has focused this year on the possibility of creating large complexes of schools—from the kindergarten or prekindergarten level through senior high school or junior college—set in park-like surroundings.

In East Orange, N. J., a suburb of Newark, the idea moved beyond the talking stage to the drawing board this month when school authorities came up with an ambitious plan for a 16-acre "central education plaza."

The complex would replace 10 neighborhood elementry schools and three secondary schools which now accommodate the community's 10,000 pupils. It would also provide facilities for a junior college, a community center and various athletic and recreational programs.

In East Orange, where Negroes constitute about 60 per cent of the school population, and in the other cities where education parks have been proposed, elimination of de facto school segration is a major objective of the plan.

By enlarging the "neighborhood" served by a school, the education park, with a total enrollment of up to 15,000 promises to bring about racial balance regardless of segregated housing.

Other arguments advanced in favor of the idea include the possibility of better coordination between various school levels, centralized educational research and curriculum planning and opportunities for providing more complex and expensive equipment and facilities to serve large bodies of pupils.

School board president William L. Hoffman of East Orange listed among factors considered by his board "the rising school population, pupil shifts putting pressure on some schools, the shifting racial makeup of the city and the general pressure to adjust to changing times with the emphasis on science training and college preparation."

The East Orange plan calls for construction, over a period of about 15 years, of three four-year schools housing primary, intermediate and upper grades; a "resource tower" including a junior college as well as offices, workshops and teacher training facilities; a community center including an auditorium, gymnasium, swimming pool, branch library and recreation facilities, and a multi-storied parking garage.

Within the schools there would be ungraded classes permitting pupils to advance at a pace suited to individual capabilities, and other education innovations.

The East Orange plan still must be sold to the community and to its officials. Though there is no official price tag on the blueprint, Mayor James W. Kelly Jr. has estimated the potential cost as about 35 million dollars.

Some educators say privately that this cost is prohibitively high, despite savings that might result from disposal of obsolete school property. Others express concern about the traffic problems that might be engendered by an educational park, and about the general effect of such "bigness" on children and their education program.

Similar reservations were voiced last summer when New York City School authorities brought 50 education experts together for a three-day discussion of education parks. Nonetheless, most of the members of this group felt that some pilot projects exploring the possibilities of large school complexes would be worthwhile.

In Cleveland, a citizens' committee has urged the use of urban renewal procedures to establish an education park in the central city.

"The school would offer excellent and innovative education to children of all ages and aptitudes," the group has said. "Its facilities would be so superior that parents and students from all parts of the city would wish to make use of them."

Educational facilities laboratories, Inc., a Ford Foundation offshoot that promotes better school design, has expressed strong interest in the education park idea, but its president, Harold Gores, has warned:

"If bigness is the only distinguishing attribute of the education park, it will fail . . . Only if the education park is better education will it abide."

Injured Girl In Fair Condition

Eleven-year-old Janet Leslie Gay of 132 Stadium Drive, Mill Valley, was listed in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital, where she is being treated for head injuries suffered when she was hit by a car Sunday.

The girl's 7-year-old sister, Barbara Ellen Gay, who was also injured, has been released from the hospital.

They were hit at Miller Avenue and Camino Alto by a car driven by Steven Scott Donaldson, 17, of 1117 West California Avenue, Homestead Valley. The girls are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Gay.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Expert Advises How To Drink Without Becoming Alcoholic

VAN DELLEN

Is it possible for a person to drink, enjoy it, stay sober, and not become an alcoholic? Yes, according to Dr. William B. Terhune of New Canaan, Conn., provided he is not already addicted. Once he is, complete abstinence is required because he cannot obtain satisfaction from small amounts of liquor.

There are six categories of aicohol usage and the secret of preventing alcoholism is to recognize and avoid the third, or dependent stage. The first two are the occasional use and regular social drinking. Those who graduate from these stages become alcohol-dependent drinkers.

These are the men and women who must drink to have a good time, to enjoy golf or fishing, to conduct business, to overcome feelings of fatigue and worry, and to provide stimulation, relaxation and sleep. They are on the way to alcoholism when the pattern is continued and becomes a habit.

Dr. Terhune suggests for these people "Ten Commandments to prevent alcoholism": (1) Never take a drink when you need one. (2) Sip slowly (never gulp) and space your drinks, the second 30 minutes after the first, the third an hour later, and never a fourth. (3) Dilute alcohol; a long weak one is better than on the rocks, straight, or gulping from the bottle.

(4) Keep an accurate and truthful record of the amount and number of snorts taken. (It might surprise you.) (5) Never conceal the amount consumed; if anything, exaggerate it. (6) Do not imbibe on an empty stomach.

(7) Stop drinking on signal—lunch, dinner, on the way home, celebrating an event, and "to get me through." Substitute a cup of hot strong tea or a bowl of bouillon at these times. You will feel better, be a better companion, and enjoy happier evenings. (8) Soak in a hot tub when tired or tense. (9) Never take a drink to escape discomfort, either physical or mental. (10) Never drink in the morning to offset a hangover.

THERE IS NOTHING like work, rest, exercise and play to dissipate emotional stress. Walk for hours, if necessary, when you feel the need of a drink.

HUNGRY CHILDHOOD

J. P. D. writes: If a person suffered from malnutrition in childhood, could he be affected psychologically later in life as a result?

REPLY

This is possible. But many of our most successful and aggressive men grew up in poverty and worked hard because they "want no more of it."

HERPES ZOSTER

Mrs. J. S. writes: Is shingles contagious?

REPLY

This is a moot question. In all probability, herpes zoster is mildly contagious. The relationship of this disease to chicken pox is interesting. An adult may develop shingles when exposed to a child with chicken pox, and vice versa.

STOMACH ACID

A. O. writes: Can a person increase hydrochloric acid in the stomach without taking it by mouth?

REPLY

No, provided you do not refer to the consumption of certain foods such as meats that stimulate the acid secreting glands.

CHICKEN POX

R. N. writes: Can a baby be born with chicken pox?

REPLY

Yes, but a more usual occurrence is for the rash to appear about four weeks after birth, if the mother contracted the disease two weeks before delivery.

Lung Cancer Gene Research Gaining

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—With intricate crossbreeding techniques two genetical scientists cornered a gene which gives its owner a very large measure of protection against a chemical which causes lung cancer.

To own this gene a creature must be a mouse. It is contained in some of the chromosomes which carry the blueprints for mice and assure that only mice can be parents of mice.

But many scientists believe genes of similar powers must be in many human chromosomes. Human lungs are exposed to chemicals which cause cancer, in polluted air as well as in cigarette smoke, yet relatively few people ever develop lung cancer.

There are few possible or permissible scientific means of cornering human genes, however. It can be done most readily in short-lived and rapidly reproducing animals such as mice.

The noted Scot geneticists, Drs. Joyce L. Bloom and D. S. Falconer, had six inbred strains of mice with ranging degrees of susceptibility to the cancer-causing chemical, urethan.

They bred members of strain C-57, which had the lowest susceptibility, with members of strain A, which had the highest. The offspring were bred with members of the other four strains, which were in between C-57 and A in degrees of susceptibility.

These progenies were cross-bred with one another in every possible combination, which if one puts pencil to paper will prove to reach a considerable total. Progenies were also bred "back" to members of the strains from which they had come.

Each litter contributed members to testing against the cancer-causing power of the chemical. There are the firmly established Mendelian laws of the inheritance of characteristics, and when the varying susceptibilities of all these mice were measured mathematically, the laws demonstrated the existence of a protective gene in the chromosomal makeup of strain C-57.

It behaves as a recessive gene, since it is less and less effective as the bearers are crossbred with mice farther and farther removed from the strain which owns the gene.

The Scots made their report to the technical journal of the National Cancer Institute, Bethesda, Md. This gene, they said, accounted for 75 per cent of the protection the mice of strain C-57 have against the chemical which causes lung cancer in mice of other strains. The other 25 per cent protection is bestowed by an assortment of "minor" genes, they reported.

Genetical science has known for a long time that susceptibility to lung cancer in mice is controlled by many genes. In fact, Drs. Bloom and Falconer recently demonstrated experimentally how susceptibility is inherited.

Their new experiment produced the proof that protection is also inherited, with a single gene conferring most of it.

Saturn Rocket Booster Tested

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Saturn rocket space booster, an integral part of the United States program to put a man on the moon, was successfully tested near here yesterday by the Douglas Aircraft Co.

The rocket — technically labelled S-4B, but called the "battleship" by Douglas officials—registered 200,000 pounds of thrust during the 10-second static firing.

Innocent Now In Russ Courts

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet courts henceforth will presume a defendant innocent until he is proved guilty, Justice Aleksander Gorkin stated yesterday in an article in Investia, the Soviet government paper.

Gorkin turned aside a view of conservatives, published last summer by a prosecutor, that "the court only verifies to what degree an accused person who has been brought to court by the prosecutor is guilty, and whether this criminal deserves punishment."

Instead, Gorkin cited the Soviet criminal code stating that only legally constituted courts can find accused persons guilty or innocent in criminal actions.

Journalism Dropped As Major At U.C.

BERKELEY (AP)—The dean of the College of Letters and Sciences has announced that journalism will be dropped from its list of majors at the University of California at Berkeley.

Dean William B. Fretter said yesterday, "We didn't feel that journalism qualified either as letters or as science."

Ringo Has His Tonsils Removed

LONDON (AP) — Ringo Starr, the Beatles' drummer, had his tonsils removed today. A hospital spokesman said his condition was satisfactory.

Ringo expects to be in the hospital about 10 days.

"One thing is certain," he said. "Nobody is getting my tonsils as a souvenir. Believe me, I'm going to have them burned."

Dice, six-sided cubes, numbered from one to six, have been found in the most ancient of archeological diggins.

TB Deaths In County Not Unusual

Marin's two deaths this year from undiscovered tuberculosis were not unusual, nor are the ages of the three small children now being treated for TB in Ross Hospital Terrace.

On the contrary, figures just released by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. show these disturbing facts: In from 7 to 10 per cent of all deaths from TB in California last year the disease was discovered at time of death.

There were 5,034 new cases in the state last year and 596 deaths, including three in Marin. There were 27 cases in Marin last year and 31 during the first nine months of this year.

The three children undergoing drug therapy in the Terrace are all under 10. Both they and their families eagerly await the medical decision that will determine where they spend Christmas.

If it's the Terrace, the Marin TB Assn. is standing by to help Santa. "We don't feel this would be a proper use of Christmas Seal contributions," said Mrs. Geneva W. Berry, executive director, "but Santa can count on our board members and staff."

'Peter And Wolf' Pantomime Slated

A new pantomine version of "Peter and the Wolf" will be presented by the Homestead Players on Dec. 19 at Brown's Hall, 390 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, with performances at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Actors are members of the San Francisco Repertory Company and background will be Prokofiev's music adapted for the stage. Cristina L. White of Sausalito is author and director. She is also author of such children's plays as "Enchanted Journey" and adaptations of "Thumbelina" and "Rumpelstiltskin."

NBC's Baker Case Coverage Good

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Broadcasting Co. in a sudden decision yesterday dropped most of its regular afternoon television programming for live coverage of the Senate committee investigating the Bobby Baker case.

The witness was insurance man Don Reynolds who was not saying much that was new to newspaper readers, But the testimony, in Reynolds' excessibely polite Southern drawl, concerning strange business deals in high places plus the peppery wrangling between Democratic and Republican senators was both fascinating and disillusioning.

The full treatment as served up by NBC was infinitely more illuminating than the highlights of the day's testimony chosen for a special report by CBS in the late afternoon.

Also highly illuminating was NBC's news special last night on Vietnam and what narrator Chet Huntley called "a mad war." Color film dramatically illustrated the difference between the plush, easy life in Saigon, and the Viet Cong terror nearby in rice paddies and villages where each day men are ambushed and die as the guerrillas strike—and disappear.

Diane Lennon, whose marriage and retirement from show business reduced the singing Lennon sisters from a quartet to a trio, has changed her mind. She'll be back as a Lawrence Welk regular from Dec. 12 on.

RECOMMENDED TONIGHT: "CBS reports," 7:30-8:30 EST—"Five Faces of Tokyo," the Japanese capital seen through various eyes; "The Danny Kaye Show," CBS, 10-11 — with Art Carney and Pearl Bailey as guest stars.

Kennedy Film Portions Cut

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—Ceylon's Foreign Ministry has cut references it considers uncomplimentary to Fidel Castro from the Kennedy memorial film "Years of Lightning, Day of Drums."

The ministry also cut sections dealing with the Berlin situation and events in Southeast Asia which were considered anti-Communist.

Red Cuba Textbooks Using Propaganda

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—New official public school textbooks in Communist Cuba, say exiles in touch with sources there, contain arithmetic problems such as this:

"Of the 180 million inhabitants of the United States, one-ninth are discriminated against for being Negroes and one-sixtieth for being Latin Americans. How many millions of Negroes suffer discrimination in the U.S. and how many Latin Americans?"

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

New-Type Conservative Voices Startling Ideas

The so-called "Republicans for Conservative Action," initiated by Frederick Ullner of Larkspur, sounded at first like a hard-core Barry Goldwater fan club.

Advertisements, spotted in various Bay Area newspapers, called for the 26 million who voted for the Arizona senator to rally behind a single banner for another big push in 1966 and 1968.

The organizer, a Marin businessman, claimed enthusiastic support from California and from throughout the United States, especially the Deep South.

These slogans are more or less in keeping with the Goldwater philosophy.

But then, the "platform" takes a remarkable turn. "Social Security — Double it. NATO—Disband it. Civil Rights — Strengthen them. Nuclear weapons—Disarm them. Medicare — Build retirement cities for the elderly."

And the crowning sentence: "U.N. —Reapportion the vote, and admit Red China!"

These platforms, especially the last mentioned, sound like a 180-degree turnabout from the philosophies identified with the senator from Arizona.

"Barry Goldwater would have won the election with this platform, but he would not compromise his principles," says the announcement. "Keep an eye on us."

There is little doubt that eyes will be on Ullner's "Republicans for Conservative Action." In fact, those eyes are probably blinking twice, now that some of the true colors of the organization are coming out.

It's a fairly safe assumption that some of the "conservative Republicans" who originally responded to the 26 Million Club are now wondering whether they placed their bets on the right horse. Looks as if it turned out to be a horse of another color.

The "sudden turn" (at least, that's what it seems) taken by the Republicans for Conservative Action reflects the dilemma facing the GOP.

Many of them are ardent supporters of Goldwater conservatism, but they realize that some modification must be made in the party platform in view of the resounding defeat suffered last Nov. 3.

We'll probably be hearing from other splinter GOP factions with ideas for modifications ranging all the way from "Get Out of the U.N." to "Admit Red China."

We trust that the Republicans will in time rally behind a strong leader who will represent a political philosophy somewhere between the two extremes.

No Cigarettes For Ziggy

Marin's beloved little chimpanzee, Ziggy, at the Boyd Junior Museum, likes to panhandle lighted cigarettes from visitors and take a couple of drags. Evidently he has read the Surgeon General's Report on Smoking because he does not appear to inhale.

But, dear readers, consider the results if Ziggy gets "the habit." He would have to go to work to earn money to buy cigarettes, first by the pack and then by the carton. Pretty soon he would be on the treadmill, wanting Ivy League suits, Black Label Scotch and a Jaguar.

No, don't corrupt Ziggy with the dubious benefits of civilization. Let him remain a carefree ape, content to clown for the children. That's our Ziggy.

University Farm Job Study Challenged By Farm Group

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The practice of having universities make surveys and reports on public matters has been in use for some time. This operation serves a useful purpose on two fronts.

FIRST, IT BRINGS information to the public concerning the issue at hand, and second, it provides a working project for the students in the institution involved.

Generally, investigations made and reports issued have been well worth while on both of these fronts. They have been factual, and designed to cover the subject thoroughly.

However, the California Council of Growers, a farmer organization which is concerned with the future supply of farm labor, takes issue with a recent report made by the University of California at Los Angeles.

The report has been tabbed as a "lengthy and impartial study" concerning people in the Los Angeles area who might be considered as a substitute for the Mexican national labor supply the Congress eliminated when it abolished Public Law 78.

THE STUDY, according to the Council, was neither lengthy nor impartial. It was, in fact, the council says, partial to the belief that sufficient domestic help would be available to the farmer when the next harvest season rolls around.

The report was requested by the state department of employment and the council says the department is so dissatisfied with the methods of handling the study that it may refuse to pay for the work.

The report came up with a big percentage of people who said they would "be willing" to do the farm work of the bracero, but in actual fact, the council points out, the number of actual people involved was negligible.

Another report, made by the University of California at Berkeley, indicated there was no hope of a firm labor supply from domestic help to supplant the bracero.

And an actual state test indicated that only a few domestic workers would accept the farm labor jobs. And those that did, the test revealed, soon quit.

THE REAL FACTS appear to indicate the farmer is seriously hurt unless foreign labor is available. Governor Brown has changed his thinking somewhat, and has suggested that the bracero be "phased" out in four years.

Farmers have known for a good many years they cannot depend on the domestic labor supply, as advocated by the labor front. Farmers would be happy with a domestic labor supply, but find it virtually impossible to recruit workers to do stoop labor, such as picking tomatoes.

'War Requiem' Congratulations

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We wish to congratulate publicly the Winifred Baker Chorale and the Marin Symphony Guild on its forthcoming performance of the Benjamin Britten's "WAR REQUIEM" at the Redwood High School on Sunday evening, Dec. 6.

We are most grateful for this opportunity to hear this great work, by a living composer, which expresses so eloquently in music and poetry the same thoughts that we hold about the sadness, the pity, and the futility of war.

We feel that Winifred Baker and the Marin Symphony will be making an invaluable contribution to the cultural life of the community by giving this concert.

Surfer Protests Cartoon Image

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to comment on the political cartoon on page 8 of your edition of Friday, Nov. 27, 1964.

It shows two unshaven, wild-haired men driving near the beach. The driver is saying, "Somebody should investigate —I had to stand in line 18 minutes today for my unemployment check."

This part is fine and dandy (even funny), but the thing that burns me up is that they have two surfboards protruding from the back seat.

I am a surfer who is one of many trying to teach people that a surfer is not an unshaven, filthy, lazy bum, which is the common belief. My fellow surfers are clean, well groomed boys who are employed, going to school, or both. The cartoon which you ran does not help our cause in the least.

Middle Road? No, Never

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In her extremely hateful letter to the I-J of Nov. 25, Marjorie C. MacDonald describes twenty six million Goldwater Americans as "Fascists." "Fascist" is an alien word and only a leftist would use it in referring to fellow Americans. Miss MacDonald would also like to see the Republican party "get back to middle-of-the-road conservatism." Such a situation is not possible. A conservative is a conservative and a middle-of-the-roader is an "Intellectual Eunuch."

How To Define 'Hit-And-Run'

Editor, Independent Journal:

For the edification of a puzzled citizenry, would you please define a "hit-and-run" traffic case? We have long been impressed with the idea that if one were involved in any kind of accident with a vehicle hitting any object, beast, or person, one must stop instantly. In fairness to all operators of cars, or other means of transportation, the legal definition of hit-and-run should be made clear.

The county has witnessed an automobile accident involving personal injury, leaving the immediate scene of the impact, and citizen action forcing an arrest. It has been interesting to note that our local law experts, starting with the on-the-scene police investigators and ending with the decision of a Superior Court judge, have found "insufficient evidence" and a "reasonable doubt" as to ——WHAT? Mr. Lee admitted he drove off, for whatever reason. To the layman this is "hit-and-run." Obviously, either we have been taught erroneously or the law is indeed a peculiar treasure for the legal profession.

Fence Straddlers For Democrats

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Regarding Marjorie MacDonald's letter of Nov. 25, I am wondering what she means by "middle of the road conservatism". I like to consider myself a conservative, and I want no part of the wishy-washy, middle-of-the-road fence straddlers. Let the Democrats have them, and the Republicans will be well rid of them.

As for Senator Goldwater's nomination, he was nominated in the same way that all presidential candidates have been nominated for some time. It has not changed since I studied P.A.D., and I'm getting along in years, so I'm sure this year's nomination was not something new or different from other nominations by either party. And who are the Germans to criticize our methods.

As for the will of "what" people—the will of twenty-six and a half million loyal American citizens—or hadn't she heard.

China Predicted Threat To West

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Once upon a time an English philosopher said: In Spanish we speak to God; in French we speak to a friend; in Italian we speak to a musician; in German we speak to an enemy, and in English we speak to them all.

The word "politician" always fascinated me. It is definite now that four years from now Mr. Nelson Rockefeller will run again and he will win, no matter who will represent Democrats. But we have nothing to worry about, because Mr. Rockefeller is a Republican-Democrat, i. e. progressive Republican "pinkish" side. Well, no matter who wins, United States and U. S. S. R. will not fight each other. The only unsettled thing is China, i. e. yellow-race. In 1905 a famous German general predicted that by 1970 whites better forget their own differences and concentrate on getting together because "yellow peril" is here.

An American visitor secured an audience with him this summer and raved about everything in sight. Picasso was obviously flattered. Suddenly the American retrieved a crumpled sheet from the wastebasket with an unfinished line drawing on it by the master. Reverently he asked, "Would you consider selling this to me?" "It's nothing," conceded Picasso, "but since you want it, please take it as a token of friendship—for $35,000."

An energetic gentleman spent three days of his vacation riding a bicycle from Chicago to a fishing lodge in Northern Michigan. Arrived at his destination, leg-weary but still full of beans, he was asked to comment on the relative merits of travel by bicycle and automobile. "Well," he answered, "if you're in a sedan, and you pass in the neighborhood of a skunk, you can roll up the window."

INTERESTING MOMENT reported from the Columbia Medical School: the Dean called in a first-year student to tell him, "Rodgers, you're doing splendidly—but you'll have to learn to write a little less clearly."

British Diplomacy May Save Multi-Nation Nuclear Force

LONDON—British diplomats seem to be at their best in picking up the pieces and putting them back together again.

THIS IS WHAT Anthony Eden did in rescuing the European Defense Community after it was defeated by the French parliament and John Foster Dulles had thrown up his hands and cried, "Agonizing reappraisal."

This is exactly what Britain's new Labor prime minister, Harold Wilson is doing today in coming to the aid of the multi-lateral force (MLF) in the face of President Charles de Gaulle's aggressive no to the U. S.-sponsored project for a multi-lateral surface fleet armed with Polaris missiles.

It is evident that the British have persuaded the American and German governments that they are genuinely intent upon making MLF acceptable to the maximum number of NATO nations, that their plea for time to conduct fresh negotiations is in no way designed as a stall, that no long delay which could kill the project is desired.

What has happened is that the Labor leadership has reversed its long opposition to any British participation in a nuclear force of any kind and has abandoned its objections—declared before they took office—to MLF specifically.

EVIDENTLY Prime Minister Wilson has taken a new look at MLF and has found it to his liking, if it can be somewhat altered. He will support the mixed-manned fleet, if not too ambitious (by which he means not too expensive) and if it is widened to take in British V-bombers and a contingent of British Polaris submarines.

There are three reasons why Mr. Wilson's initiative should be seen as serious and constructive and fitting his political needs to a T:

1. Wilson still wants to escape from the heavy burden of an independent nuclear force, but, now that he is in office, he finds that he does not want to abandon it without something to put in its place. Britain's entry into a multi-nation MLF would do both.

2. Wilson needs to save the money for his many domestic social welfare projects.

3. Ever since de Gaulle's veto of British membership in the Common Market, Britain has been looking for another entry to closer relationship with the continent. For the British to rescue MLF would be such an entry. It would be good for Europe, good for Britain, good for the United States.

IT IS CLEAR that the British see both the six-nation Common Market and progress toward political unification completely stymied by de Gaulle. Their own long-range view is that Europe may well be economically organized to take in the seven other European nations now outside the Common Market, with a smaller Europe (namely, the MLF participants) constituting a united defense and more closely-knit political community.

Some British want to go even further. They see Britain's V-bombers, though obsolescent in terms of the Soviet Union, as a powerful weapon in terms of Red China and as giving the newly conceived MLF a world-wide nuclear role, involving in the end an allied board for global strategic planning.

IF MLF CAN BE saved, Britain will have done a lot to save it.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

LBJ Faces Thorny Vietnam Decision

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Ambassador Maxwell Taylor's return for consultations brings to a potentially fateful showdown a three-way split among President Lyndon B. Johnson's top-level advisers on what should be done about the steadily deteriorating situation in South Vietnam.

THIS WIDE divergence among key State Department and Pentagon authorities is largely responsible for the administration's erratic course in the Communist-periled Southeast Asian country. The sharply differing proposals range from undertaking immediate negotiations to come to terms with the Reds to a far-reaching escalation of this tortuous conflict, as follows:

1. Striking directly at Communist China, including bombing its nuclear installations deep in the interior.

2. Extending the war to North Vietnam and Laos, with massive air and naval blows at Viet Cong depots, training camps and supply routes.

3. Offering to negotiate a settlement based on "neutralizing" South Vietnam and withdrawing all U. S. military forces.

Principle advocates of these three varying policies are:

For direct confrontation with Red China—Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Undersecretary Averell Harriman, Assistant Secretary William Bundy, and his brother, McGeorge Bundy, special foreign affairs adviser to the president and the main leader of this group — which significantly, until recently, opposed expansion of the war, particularly to the Chinese mainland.

THOSE URGING that extension of the conflict be limited to destroying Viet Cong logistic bases in North Vietnam and Laos include Ambassador Taylor, Gen. William Westmoreland, commander of the U. S. forces in South Vietnam, and members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Pressing for immediate settlement negotiations are Undersecretary George Ball, Assistant Secretary Harlan Cleveland, U. N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson, and lower-level State Department "specialists" who usually follow Stevenson's lead.

The Bundy group proposal to "denuclearize" Red China is summed up in the statement, at a White House discussion, "The only way to solve the Southeast Asia problem is to start where policy really begins, the capital in Peking." This influential group holds that the U. S. should seek an alliance with Russia against Red China.

PRINCIPAL REASON Ambassador Taylor and the Joint Chiefs of Staff, which he headed before going to South Vietnam, are advising that expansion of the war be restricted to hitting the Viet Cong in North Vietnam and Laos is that bombing Red China runs the grave risk of involving Russia.

General Westmoreland wants the administration to back a bigger role for the South Vietnam military in the Saigon government than urged by Taylor, to offset civilian officials who are increasingly inclined to a neutralist policy.

Westmoreland also favors accepting the Philippine offer of 6,000 troops. Ambassador Taylor has been cool to that.

THE SO-CALLED Stevenson group sees a completely civilian government as the best solution for the tortuous South Vietnam dilemma. The argument is being vigorously made, in inner White House councils, that such a regime could "properly" seek a negotiated settlement with the Viet Cong and North Vietnam, to include the neutralization of South Vietnam, and the withdrawal of all U. S. forces there.

Tiburon's Mayor Is A Whiz At Game Of 'Remember When'

Tiburon Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge was born in Germantown, Pa., in 1909. He grew up in a time which for much of the country stopped at World War II.

Its line continues in small towns in mid-America but is lost to most. Different experiences take the place for most city-suburban youths growing up today who will remember a different time.

Strawbridge can remember:

"The early 1900s, an era that seems a million years ago: when the lamplighter went down the street with his long stick, turning on the acetylene street lights, and the policeman wore a high-domed hat, long blue coat and twirled a night stick.

"And the vehicles all horse-drawn; the ice wagon with the low platform at the rear, and the ice tongs and brass scales dangling above. When the iceman chopped off his order, we picked up the chips to suck.

"The coal wagon, the men black with coal dust, carrying the heavy bags over their shoulders to dump down a steel chute into your cellar.

"The rag man whose call might be heard a block away: 'Rags, any old rags.' Although perhaps the most harmless man in town, he was so disreputable looking we thought him a kidnaper.

"At the corner was the Hurdy-Gurdy Man with his piano on wheels and a monkey with a green cap to hop around collecting pennies from the listeners. More rarely, the man with the mangy brown dancing bear in a heavy studded collar at the end of a chain.

"On Sunday mornings we all walked the miles to Friends Meeting, where from the age of five we were expected to sit quiet and unsquirming for the full hour.

"After meeting came horseback riding, or perhaps a drive in a four-in-hand. Sometimes it was an overnight trip, perhaps to Trenton or Valley Forge. On rainy Sundays we played Old Maid or Parchesi.

"Winter was a time for itchy long woolen underwear, for Flexible Fliers and clamp-on skates that, if adjusted too tight, could pull off the heel of your shoe.

"No radio, no television. After dinner (we called it supper) there was a chapter from the Bible, then study and read: Howard Pyle, Jack London, Ernest Thompson Seton, Sir Walter Scott. Who now reads 'The Cloister and the Hearth,' 'Lorna Doone' or 'The Count of Monte Cristo'?"

Records Of Sale Of Lambs Needed

Sheep ranchers have been reminded to keep adequate records of their sales of lambs during the current marketing year for application for payment under the wool incentive program.

Alfred J. Bianchi, chairman of the Marin County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today that sales records for lambs sold during 1964 should include the name of the buyer, his signature and the number and weight of unshorn lambs sold.

Applications for payment under the incentive program should be filed as soon as possible after fall sales are completed, Bianchi said.

Winter Reading

Mrs. Helen S. Wilson, Larkspur, librarian, will speak on "Books for Winter Evenings" at a meeting of the Marin chapter of the American Assn. of Retired Persons at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the First Methodist Church of San Rafael, 9 Ross Valley Drive. Christmas music and refreshments will follow the meeting.

How're Things In Nonomura? Not Going So Very Well . . .

WASHINGTON — Despite what you read in the papers, things are not going very well in South Nonomura. While it is true we now have 500,000 American military advisers in the country, the North Nonomurans seem to be making quite a bit of headway. They now occupy the Nonomura Hilton Hotel and two Holiday Inns in the center of the capital, but the post office and the American Officers' Club are still in South Nonomura hands.

TO ILLUSTRATE what's happening in Nonomura, just the other day three North Nonomurans took over a South Nonomuran street car during rush hour and flew the North Nonomuran flag from the top of it. A battalion of crack South Nonomuran paratroops was flown in by 165 helicopters to stop the street car, but it was beaten off by the North Nonomurans who were armed with heavy street car straps.

Before help could be called, the three North Nonomurans disappeared into a South Nonomuran department store built with A. I. D. funds.

This is only one incident, but it illustrates once again the difficulties South Nonomura is having in winning the war. It is not just a military problem, but a political one.

THE GOVERNMENT of Maj.-Gen. Gog, which was responsible for overthrowing the former government of Col. Fink, who staged a coup d'etat against Premier Zen's right-wing coalition, which had ousted President Zam's Radical Party after he had taken over from Adm. Phew, who ruled with a junta until he was shot by air force Gen. Ho Ho, now looks as if it is in trouble.

Their slogan has been, "One month is enough for any premier. It's time for a change."

Gen. Gog's answer to the students has been to bring in the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th Divisions from the field to surround his palace. While this has been a tremendous help in shoring up his government, it has slowed down the war a little.

TO MAKE matters worse, when the students can't get near the palace, they have been attacking the American embassy and a good proportion of the military advisers have had to protect the embassy, which has interfered with their training programs.

The few times the students have managed to sack the embassy, the State Department has called in the South Nonomuran ambassador to protest, but the ambassador happens to be an arch-enemy of Gen. Gog's who appointed him to the U. S. to get him out of the country. So all he ever says is, "Don't tell me your troubles. I told you you should have gotten rid of Gog long ago."

MANY SOLUTIONS have been offered to stabilize the situation in South Nonomura. One is to give every student in South Nonomura a Fulbright scholarship to the United States. With the students out of the country, the divisions could be sent back to the field.

But even more drastic alternatives are being considered.

One is to bomb North Nonomura, a plan which has the support of several ranking officers in the Pentagon.

THE OTHER alternative is to bomb South Nonomura, which has the support of almost every American military adviser who has ever been there.

Ford's Theater, the red-brick playhouse on Northwest Washington's 10th Street, is going to be outfitted as completely as possible, from presidential box, orchestra seats and box office to the simulated flickering light of gas chandeliers.

LEE BROS VALUE WORLD MEANS SAVE EVERYDAY

Dear Customer:

In just one year your Lee Bros. Value World Centers have opened Suburban Department Stores in Larkspur, Modesto, Sacramento, Pleasant Hill and now Castro Valley. We invite you to join in the fun and excitement in the Grand Opening of the new Lee Bros. Value World in Castro Valley where you'll find the quality you want and the brands you know. All Lee Bros. Value World Centers join in this Grand Opening Celebration where you'll save on sporting goods and jewelry, on fine clothing and shoes for the entire family. You'll be amazed at the "Big V" everyday savings on Top Quality Steer Beef, National Grocery Brands, Field-Fresh Produce, drug items you buy regularly for your home and family. We invite you to take advantage of the Big Savings this week at all Lee Bros. Value World Centers where you'll really enjoy the pleasant shopping atmosphere and the "Smiling Service".
